Lithuanian Nazi Leaders Given Death Sentences

HEAVY SENTENCES GIVEN 121 OTHERS

Germany Is Enraged By Execution Sentences—See Political Moves

(BULLETIN)
International News Service

MEMEL, Lithuania, Mar. 26.—Climaxing a treason trial that may have a profound effect upon the present precarious situation in Europe, four prominent Lithuanian Nazi leaders were sentenced to death today.

They were among 123 accused of murdering a fellow-Nazi named Jesuttis, whom they suspected of betraying their alleged plot to overthrow the Lithuanian regime in Memel and establish a Nazi dictatorship.

Heavy sentences were meted out to most of the remaining 121. Two were sentenced to life imprisonment and others to terms ranging from eight to twelve years.

Thirty-five of the defendants were released. The property of all those convicted was ordered confiscated.

Germany Enraged

Berlin, Mar. 26.—Death sentence meted out to four Nazis convicted of treason and murder at Kovno clearly shows "both trial and verdict were dictated by political motives," a spokesman for an enraged Germany, declared this afternoon.

"The verdict," he continued, "will only evoke disgust over Lithuanian justice. It can only be hoped the powers signatory to the Memel statute will step in and see that justice is done."

It was understood news of the Memel verdict reached Chancellor Hitler in the midst of his presentation of Germany's armaments argument to British foreign secretary Sir John Simon.

He promptly broke off his argument and spoke at length to the British visitors regarding the Memel problem, it was reported.

Quite a bit of plowing is being done by the farmers in various sections of the county, Pa Newc noted on a trip through the countryside yesterday.

One lone daffodil was blooming in the yard of the place where Tony Li Castro, alleged gangster, was found murdered, a visit to the place yesterday revealed. Li Castro is buried in a local cemetery and there probably will never be any flowers blooming on his grave.

Dear Pa Newc:

Frank Coen, game protector for Lawrence county, told me of a goshawk that was killed Monday at the Knight farm a half mile beyond Highland Heights. The goshawk is quite rare in these parts and Mr. Coen said that it was the first that he had seen in this section. The goshawk is a close ally to the English Falcon and is a very destructive bird. The goshawk is noted for its great speed and it uses its very long tail as a rudder, which enables it to make maneuvers which are eye deceiving quick. The goshawk is the most beautiful of the hawk family.

"PAY-AS-YOU GO" GOVERNOR FINDS LEGISLATURE BALKY

It's One Thing To Advocate And Another To Achieve, Michigan Executive Learns

By BERT STOLL
Central Press Correspondent

LANSING, Mich., March 26—A battle royal is raging between Michigan's new "pay-as-you-go" Republican governor, Frank D. Fitzgerald, and recalcitrant members of the state legislature.

On the one hand, Governor Fitzgerald is fighting to put across his platform for reorganizing the state government and placing it, as he says, on a strictly business basis. Arrayed against him, and seeking to balk his efforts and hold up the program of administration bills while they seek patronage for their friends back home, are various members of the legislature.

Patronage Demanded

With Republicans holding 21 out of 33 seats in the state senate, it would appear that the Republican governor would have little diffculty in getting his economy program through that branch of the legislature. But many of the newly elected

New Electric Rates Are Filed For New Castle

Pennsylvania Power Company Files Schedule At Harrisburg

REDUCTIONS ARE MADE IN RATES

New Schedule In Effect In District Served By Company, April 15

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The Pennsylvania Power company today filed with the Public Service commission reductions in electric rates to residential, commercial and small power consumers expected to result in savings of $138,900 a year on present consumption.

The new schedules will go into effect April 15 for 40,000 customers in Lawrence and Mercer counties and portions of Beaver, Butler and Allegheny counties. The company's home office is in New Castle.

Residential consumers will receive the largest reductions, $84,000 of the total. The remainder was divided as follows: rural line extention $14,200; commercial lighting, $24,100; small power, $11,600 and street lighting, $5,000.

Residential Rates

Two residential rates will be effective under the schedules, one for Sharon and New Castle and the other for suburban customers outside those areas. An "objective rate", lower than the "immediate rate," was included in the schedule to apply to all customers using more electricity in any month in the future than during the corresponding month the year before. This rate provides that residential customers in the company's entire territory can, by increasing their use of electric current, obtain more kilowatt hours at no cost, or at a greatly reduced rate. This form of rate is commonly referred to as the Commonwealth and Southern plan, and has been widely adopted in the southeastern area of the United States, it is stated.

As an example, a residential consumer who used 50 kilowatt hours last April paid $2.85. Under the new schedule, he would pay $2.65 this year for 50 kilowatt hours but under the "objective" rate he could use up to 64 kilowatt hours for the same cost.

Will Oppose Move To Boost Federal Taxes

Tax Amendments To Be Ruled Out In "Pink Slip" Repeal Action

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—With the administration apparently opposed to any increase in federal taxes for the present, senate leaders today proposed to block the offering of tax "riders" to the bill repealing "pink slip" income tax publicity.

An administration spokesman, under the plan, will make a point of order against any amendment proposing higher taxes on the ground tax legislation is not germane to the repeal bill. He will contend tax legislation must be initiated in the house under the federal constitution and that the "pink slip" repeal measure is not a tax bill.

Vice President Garner is said to be ready to submit this question to the senate for decision. With the Democrats wielding a two-thirds majority, tax amendments would be ruled out of order under such a procedure.

Three seperate tax proposals have been aired. One by Senator LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, would increase income taxes by $300,000,000 through higher normal and surtaxes. Another by Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan, would raise $300,000,000 by higher corporation taxes. A third considered by a group of conservative Republican leaders, would propose a wide range of new and higher taxes to balance the budget.

Under the Democratic plan now contemplated, all three proposals would be ruled out of order.

RAW MATERIAL EXPORT BAN ORDERED IN FRANCE

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Mar. 26.—In a measure designed to accumulate and preserve war resources in preparation for any emergency, the French council of ministers today imposed a ban on the export of raw materials used in the manufacture of armaments and other essentials of defense.

Spokesmen at the foreign office insisted the measure could by no means be construed as an economic blockade, but it followed by 24 hours a billion-franc increase in naval appropriations for new construction and steps to protect the civilian population of France from aerial bombardment.

The export ban was officially announced as applying to "certain raw materials."

These were assumed to be mag-

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26—Warned in Washington that federal relief payments will cease unless the state assumes its share of the $20,000,000 a month burden not later than April 15, Gov. George H. Earle today conferred with administration leaders in an effort to hasten action on his $203,000,000 tax program now virtually all in the senate.

The ultimatum was laid down by Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, at a conference with the governor late yesterday afternoon. Hopkins agreed to furnish, $10,000,000 for the first two weeks in April but further federal aid, he warned, will depend upon the governor's success in raising $5,000,000 a

Mandamus On Controller To Pay Engineer

T. A. Gilkey Claims Controller Refuses To Pay Balance On Viaduct Plans

WAS PAID $800 BUT WANTS $4,805 MORE

Civil Engineer Thomas A. Gilkey presented a petition in court this morning for a writ of mandamus on County Controller, R. C. McCaslin to compel the county to pay him $4,805, alleged to be due for drawing plans for the Croton Avenue viaduct.

The petition recites that a city ordinance was passed in September, 1925, laying out a street from the intersection of Walnut street and Croton avenue to a point on Lincoln avenue.

Viewers were appointed, the report approved and laid before a grand jury which made a favorable report.

Gilkey sets forth that he was regularly employed as county engineer by the county commissioners, and on July 20, 1933 the county entered into a contract with him to draw plans for a viaduct. The plans were completed in February, 1934.

Under the terms of the contract Gilkey claims that there was a proviso, that in case the viaduct was not built he was to receive 2½ per cent on the estimated cost.

He estimated the cost at $224,000, and under the contract claimed $5,605. On October 11, 1934 he was paid $800, leaving a balance of $4,805. A bill for this was presented to County Controller R. C. McCaslin, who refused to pay it.

The present writ is issued to compel payment. Judge R. L. Hildebrand has fixed April 15 as a time for a hearing.

Relatives told police the girl ran away three weeks ago and, when found was punished severely by the father.

GERMAN ARMS VIEWS BEING PRESENTED

Sir John Simon Gets New Program To Unwrap At Allies' Conference

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 26.— The Anglo-German arms talks, interrupted when Chancellor Hitler received word in the conference room of the Lithuanian Nazi death sentences which have shocked the Reich, and later by a lavish luncheon at the British embassy, were resumed in a tense atmosphere at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Fuehrer, it was understood, proposed to British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon a detailed system of bilateral agreements as a substitute for the French multilateral treaty thesis.

Hitler was reported ready to take conciliatory step toward the French in agreeing not to aid any aggressor provided his bilateral system is adopted.

Provide New Basis

The chancellor's views were regarded here as providing Sir John with a new percel to unwrap at Stresa when Britain, France and Italy meet there on April 11 prior to the extraordinary League of Nations council session convoked by France to "try" Germany for alleged violation of the Versailles treaty.

Reuter's correspondent said Hitler's main armament argument was summarized by a British official with the words "total disarmament if all other states disarm and inten-

Compromise Trend On State Tax Program Leans To Sales Tax

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The Republican-controlled senate flung down the gauntlet today to the administration's tax program and paved the way for a decisive vote on the gas tax booster to force a compromise.

Anticipating the move, administration leaders acted to prevent collapse of Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 program of new taxes by preparing to draft substitute imposts cloaked in mystery except for a flat denial that they included any form of a retail sales tax.

The senate finance committee brought out the $40,000,000 Eberharter bill tacking two more cents on every gallon of gasoline only a few hours after hearing it vigorously opposed at a public hearing. It was up for second reading today as G. O. P. forces mustered votes to defeat the bill tomorrow or next Monday. A spokesman said:

"Every indication points to a vote on Wednesday or Monday which will kill the bill for this session."

The decision to attempt to carve out a huge chunk of Governor Earle's tax program, thus forcing substitute taxes or drastic modification of the administration budget for relief, was taken in the face of Democratic warnings that federal relief funds will be chopped off on April 15 unless the state acts to pay part of the bill. The senate's bold move marked an end to the lethargy of inaction in the upper chamber prevailing since the session started.

See Retail Sales Tax

Although they did not say so during the dramatic hour in which the administration program was subjected to Republican fire from the senate floor. Leaders admitted they were aiming their program to force a retail sales tax.

In this they received unexpected endorsement from Democratic ranks when Senator George A. Rupp, Lehigh, announced himself opposed to the gas tax increase and in favor of a sales tax. A sales tax, he said, would distribute the task of paying for relief over all residents.

President Leaves Problems Behind For Congressmen

Legislative Leaders Facing Many Big Problems In Near Future

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—President Roosevelt sped southward today for a brief respite from his troubles, leaving behind a set of congressional leaders gloomily contemplating the rest of the session. Most of them would like to be going south, too.

In whatever legislative direction the leaders looked they saw trouble and bickering over bills which Mr. Roosevelt insists be enacted before adjournment. If any serious attempt is made to enact the whole program, congress may well be in session all summer.

Before leaving, the president told his congressional leaders he definitely wants to have passed:

Opposition Of "Silver Bloc" Biggest Problem To Be Overcome

PRESIDENT AGAINST SILVER PROPOSALS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—Administration leaders, anxious to lay the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill on President Roosevelt's desk, today planned to send the measure to conference by a house vote.

The determined opposition of the house "silver bloc," which demanded acceptance of the senate's Thomas silver coinage amendment, was the chief obstacle in the path of the program laid down by house leaders.

Expect Speedy Approval

Despite this opposition, Speaker Byrns is confident the measure will be sent to conference with the senate and be finally approved by Saturday.

Extraordinary parliamentary tactics were adopted by house leaders to circumvent the backers of mandatory coinage of silver bullion at $1.29 an ounce.

A special rule, sending the bill to conference will be offered by Chairman O'Connor (D) of New York, of the rules committee. Its adoption would prevent the silverites from making their effort to accept all the senate amendments, and thus end the congressional journey of the bill.

Led by silver-thatched Rep. John A. Martin (D) of Colorado, the "silver bloc" planned to fight the leaders' plan.

President Roosevelt, it was authoritatively reported, not only objects to the mandatory silver amendment, but also frowns upon other changes made in the senate which would restrict his authority in spending the money.

"PAY-AS-YOU-GO" GOVERNOR FINDS LEGISLATIVE BALKY

Republican senators have aligned themselves in a bloc, under the leadership of Lieutenant Governor Thomas Read and State Senator Earl W. Munshaw, and have served notice on the governor that he must give political jobs for their friends in return for legislative co-operation.

In a recent radio address Governor Fitzgerald told citizens that he would block any attempt by the legislature to nullify his state economy program. The governor emphasized that the bills of his legislative program are aimed at reducing the expense of state government.

"Pay as you go—that was the theme song of my campaign," Governor Fitzgerald said.

Governor's Program

Thus did the governor serve notice on rebellious members of the legislature that he is sticking by his guns and will do everything within his power to put across his economy program which includes: A balanced budget; simplification of state finance; elimination of the present state administrative board and the creation of a centralized department of finance; establishment of a new state corrections commission to take over supervision of prisons; elimination of the state sales tax of 3 per cent on foodstuffs; and reorganization of the state welfare department.

The bill to extend the government's regulatory powers over food and drug standards.

Priority Measures

The foregoing constitutes the White House priority list in legislation. There is opposition of some sort to every item in the list.

Other measures that Mr. Roosevelt would like to see passed include the ship-subsidy bill, which was recommended in a special message; amendments to the AAA legislation; and amendments to the Federal Reserve Act to give the government greater power over the reserve system.

A veto awaits the soldiers' bonus bill, as for the Wagner labor disputes bill and the 30 hour bill, the administration is preserving silence.

customers will be 5½ cents for the first 30 kwh, five cents for the next 40, three cents for the next 50 and two cents for the excess of 120. The immediate rate for suburban customers will be 7½ cents for the first 30 kwh, five cents for the next 30, three cents for the next 60, and two cents for the excess of 120.

The objective rate applicable to both urban and suburban areas will be five cents for the first 20 kwh, four cents for the next 30, 3¼ cents for the next 50, 2½ cents for the next 100 and 1½ cents for the excess of 200. This rate will apply to any customer after his free electricity has been used.

Commercial Rates

There are two rates available for commercial service. One a straight 5 cent per kwh rate, the other a block rate stated as follows:

6 cents per kwh for the first 30 hours use per month of active load.

5 cents per kwh for the next 60 hours use per month of active load.

3 cents net, per kwh for the next 90 hours use of active load, and

2 cents net, per kwh, for all in excess of the first three blocks.

These two commercial rates are applicable in the entire area either urban or suburban.

A change is made in the secondary power rate, available for any secondary power customer in the entire area served by the company, which is stated as follows:

5½ cents net, for the first 30 hours use per month of the connected load in kw.

4½ cents net, per kwh, for the next 90 hours use per month of the connected load in kw.

3 cents net per kwh for all over 120 hours use per month.

Rural Electrification Aid

In addition to the above reductions, the company has taken a step toward the ultimate solution of the rural electrification problem, by filing a revised special waiver of guarantee clause stated as follows: "In addition to the standard clause, and for the purpose of effecting a yearly reduction in the monthly minimum guarantee established under the provision of general order No. 28, the customer's monthly guarantee of revenue shall be reduced 20 percent on March first next following the expiration of the initial contract period of three years, and on the following March first by 15 percent, and on each succeeding March first thereafter by 10 percent until the minimum monthly guarantee required, is reduced to the stated minimum in the applicable schedule. Providing however, that the total minimum per mile of line shall not be less than $12.00, and provided further that where individual transformer installation shall be required to serve the customer, the minimum monthly guarantee shall not be reduced by the application of the above waiver clause below $2.50 per month for any such individual connected customer." Approximately 95 percent of the company's rural customers served under the provision of general order No. 28, and whose initial contract term has expired will be benefited by the introduction of the above waiver clause.

Application of this rule will be based on the original cost of the line and apportionment of the full required guarantee for the line among customers now being served.

Statement By Round

In connection with the new rate schedule filed at Harrisburg, L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power company issued the following statement:

"Our obligation as a public utility company requires that we render the best possible service at the lowest possible cost, bearing in mind the interests not merely of our customers, but of our employees and investors as well.

In keeping with that obligation the Pennsylvania Power company has, during the depression period, maintained its facilities in condition to give adequate service at all times. In addition, the company has, in spite of a large decrease in sales, made reductions each year in its rates which, including the reduction announced today, are now resulting in savings to its customers of almost a half million dollars per year.

"The reductions now being made, in the face of possible large tax increases and rising costs of materials, reflects our confidence in the ability and desire of our customers to use this saving by utilizing to a greater extent the many electricity consuming devices available today. The "free electricity" plan embodied in our rate reduction makes such increased use particularly advantageous.

"While the residential customer receives the major portion of this reduction, new tariffs have also been filed for small power service and retail commercial service. The rural customer benefits thru a change in the agricultural service rate and a revision of the rural extension rule which provides for successive reductions in the minimum monthly guarantee. These changes apply to the entire territory served by the company, and with one or two exceptions, the rates for the various classes of service are now uniform thruout the territory."

sive armament if a single power starts intensixe armament."

It was believed Hitler pointed out to Sir John that Germany's projected naval rearmament was a matter of years rather than days or weeks.

Military Equality Demand

Berlin, March 26—Military equality with the rest of Europe and disarmament only if all other nations disarm.

This was the formal notification served upon foreign secretary Sir Jonh Simon of Great Britain by Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany late today as the monmentous Anglo-German "exploratory" negotiations ended after two days of discussion.

It was, in effect, a reaffirmation of the Nazi equality platform which Hitler has demanded since his rise to power.

Thus, according to a usually reliable informant, Hitler stood rock-bound on an "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" basis, and made clear he will not budge an inch on Germany's present armaments status unless the other nations of Europe meet him half-way.

This is the message, these same informants declared, which Sir John will take to Stresa, Italy, on April 11 when he is to meet with the representatives of France and Italy for a second tri-partite parley before the league of nations council assembles on France's demand to "try" the Reich for alleged violation of the Versailles treaty.

Presents German Requirements

Berlin, March 26—Germany's Military requirements on land and sea and in the air were laid before foreign secretary Sir John Simon of Britain today as he and Chancellor Adolf Hitler continued their "explorations' for an avenue of peace in strife-torn Europe.

This data and Hitler's viewpoint toward the proposed eastern Locarno and Danubian pacts were discussed in detail as the formidable parade of tangled European problems marched through the conference room.

The French steamroller meanwhile pushed forward, particularly with regard to the Danubian pact, which would enable France to hold firm to Italy, and in turn oblige the Italians to remain friendly to Yugoslavia. This would check Yugoslavia's tendency to lean toward Germany.

Hitler continued to base his conversation on the grounds that any future agreement must follow unequivocal recognition by the various powers of Germany's equality.

While the Chancellor remains opposed to the eastern Locarno agreement if Soviet Russia is a party, he balked at the Danubian pact on the grounds a treaty of this sort would legalize future French interference in central Europe.

Simon On Middle Road

Sir John continued to stick to the middle road, not committing himself either to the French or German viewpoints. The general atmosphere at noon was "encouraging, so far as can be expected under the circumstances."

A high German authority stated to this correspondent that for the past 24 hours terrific French pressure has been brought upon Sir John through Sub Rosa diplomatic channels to induce Sir John to demand an equivocal yes or no from Hitler on the proposed pacts.

Chief attention of both sides, however, was apparently focussed on German air and sea armament.

Hitler has contended throughout that a standing army of 36 divisions as provided for in his conscription degree represents the minimum defense needs of the Reich.

Regarding air and sea armaments, Germany hopes for a triangular limitation agreement to protect the mutual securities of Britian, France and Germany. Hitler continues to maintain he needs a fleet strong enough to guard the Baltics against Soviet marine invasion, but it was emphasized the present conversations can produce little more than a ground work, with actual undertakings left for the future.

HOPKINS WARNS STATE MUST SHARE RELIEF BURDEN

month which the federal administrator fixed as a "fair" share for the state.

"We are not going to continue to hold the bag" Hopkins said, explaining the FERA had given Pennsylvania $48,000,000 since Governor Earle took office to carry the state's entire relief load. "We've done it this long merely to give the legislature time to formulate a program and act upon it," he added. "April 15 is the deadline."

Governor Earle expressed confidence the legislature will pass his tax program which includes emergency taxes designed to raise immediate revenue.

Hopkins said a majority of the more than 1,700,000 persons now virtually all on direct relief in Pennsylvania will be transferred to work relief when the president's $4,000,000,000 program gets underway in this state. Pennsylvania, however, will be expected to continue supplying $5,000,000 a month as its share of relief costs, he explained.

COMPROMISE ON STATE TAX PROGAM

lief. They will see that it is efficiently administered," he explained.

This brought the revelation to International News Service from responsible administration sources that Governor Earle will counter with new taxes not yet proposed if his measures now before the senate are defeated. Denial that this substitute program contained a sales tax came with the statement that any Republican effort to push through such an impost would be resisted by the Democratic house majority to the limit.

Must Act By April 15

The first touchoff of the sudden swing toward a climax came from Democratic floor leader Warren Roberts, Northampton. He read a report of telephone conversation with Governor Earle who had been told by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins that the federal government intended to stop relief paymets to Pennsylvania on April 15 unless the state acted to provide part of the needed revenue.

Governor Earle's budget carries $145,000,000 for relief, $15,000,000 as an emergency allocation for the rest of this biennium and the remainder for the next biennium.

Republicans seized the opportunity to bitterly denounce the "highly paid" relief administration personnel "which has to build up relief rolls to keep their own jobs." Senator G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, expressed the Republican keynote, declaring:

"Instead of the governor sending the senate notices to pass bills, he should enlighten us as to the future. He ought to tell us what he is going to cut down the relief list and take care of only those who have to be taken care of. The time has come to face the problem as it is. If we don't the whole house will fall over and we won't have any state left."

The tax flareup forced postponement of senate action on its light calendar. The only other action was the vote to delay until late today action on the motion of Senator Anthony Cavalcante, Fayette, to discharge the committee on constitutional changes of further consideration of the administration constitutional revision bill. The vote to delay was carried only when Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy broke a 23-23 tie. It was the first time the lieutenant governor had voted in Pennsylvania for more than 15 years.

MRS. CRAWFORD IS NEW WORTHY MATRON

At beautifully impressive ceremonies held by New Castle chapter, 105, O. E. S., Monday evening, in the East lodge room, of the Cathedral, Mrs. Grace W. Crawford was installed as worthy matron of the chapter, and Henry Jackson, worthy patron for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Marguerite Geary presided as installing officer, Mrs. Minnie Blaha, as installing marshall, and Mrs. Lona Gray, installing chaplain. Guests numbering around 300 witnessed the ceremony, many of these being members of other chapters in Greenville, Butler, Evans City and Ellwood City.

After being inducted into office, Mrs. Crawford addressed the assembly with an original poem. In connection with her assuming office, it is of further intrest to note that the gavel which she will use is fashioned of wood from a tree, planted a long, long time ago by her father, the late Rev. J. C. Womer, when he was a lad. Lovely gifts of flowers were tendered the new worthy matron and the retiring matron, Miss Bessie Durant, who now becomes Junior Past matron.

Previous to the installation ceremonies, the guests were served an elegant banquet in the large dining room downstairs. Spring flowers were used in profusion in decorations, attrative bouquets being on each of the long tables around which covers were marked for 200. This feature was in charge of Miss Durant, who also presided as worthy matron at sessions which were held at 3 o'clock when several new members were initiated.

VISITING ARTISTS GIVE FINE PROGRAM

An enthusiastic audience of capacity size, greeted the artists from the Monday Musical club of Youngstown, Monday evening, when they appeared in a well arranged program before the Music club of this city, in Highland U. P. church.

Isabel Linberger, contralto, was well received in a group of songs by Handel, Schubert, Becker and Dunn. Tenor solos by Woodforde Finden, Quilter, Russell and Geehl were sung with fervor and sincerity by Joseph Guttridge. These were followed by three numbers for flute solo, played by Harry Baugh. A tone of surprising purity, and a rapid and unencumbered technic distinguished his performance. Mr. Baugh is young in years, but he shows promise of attaining high rank among artists of long standing.

Mae Milner, soprano, sang to particular advantage, a group of four American songs by Ware, Ganz, Curran and Woodman. Her interpretations showed fine understanding, and her diction was exceptionally clear. The program was concluded with Saint Saens' Rhapsodie d'Anvergne for two pianos which was played with spirit and assurance by Sophia Lockshin and Elva Myerovich. Well proportioned accompaniments which provided fine support were played by Lillian Hailstone, Mrs. Frank B. Horn and Paul Curran.

Mrs. D. Duff Scott and Mrs. E. F. Henderson were hostesses for the attractive program and presided at the tea table during the delightfully informal reception and social period afterwards, in the social room. Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of this part of the evening's entertainment and she was assisted by several club members, including the ushers for last evening, Misses Kathryn Newberry, Kathryn Lewis, Mrs. C. F. Flannery and Mrs. Burr Rogers.

The tea table was laid with an exquisite lace cloth and adorned with a beautiful center floral arrangement of lavender stock, in combination with yellow calendulas and greenery. Tall yellow and lavender tapers in silver holders were on either side.

Music lovers throughout the city are interested in an announcement made last night concerning the recital which will be given on Tuesday evening, April 2, by Edwin Lewis, one of the city's well known musicians. The concert which will be open to the public and for which no charge will be made, will be held in the First Methodist church. Mrs. Grant Fisher gave an original poem, and data of musical instruments called "Pioneers" with Miss Newberry singing two songs as the next feature, "House on Top of the Hill" and "A Bird Note Is Calling." Miss Kathryn Lewis played her accompaniment.

Miss Dorothy Baldwin, talented violinist, gave a selection with Miss Jane Bryan accompanying, entitled "Good Bye." Miss Lewis accompanied Miss Newberry who sang beautifully, "Sweet Phyllis," by Strickland, and a Mexican folk song entitled "Little Star." Mrs. Grant Fisher gave two musical readings, which she composed to the tune of Schubert's "Hark, Hark, the Lark." Also, she gave another original composition, "Blossom Springing," with the musical setting being arranged by her husband, the Rev. Grant Fisher.

The concluding attractions, violin solo by Miss Baldwin, taken from "Undine" with Miss Bryan accompanist, and Mrs. Marshall, Jr., accompanied by Miss Kirkpatrick, sang two numbers, including "Coming Home." PATRIOTIC MEMORIAL HIGHWAY PROPOSED

CONGRESSMAN HAINES' bill for a memorial highway linking three national shrines, Mount Vernon, the Lincoln Memorial in Washington and the Gettysburg battlefield,, has been approved by the house road subcommittee, and should have a fair prospect of passage. The proposed boulevard would be about seventy-five miles long and would cost between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

In normal times the question of the cost of such a project would be considered an obstacle to its passage, but in these days, when money is being handed out so lavishly for emergency purposes, that argument can hardly be convincing.

It would come under the head of constructive expenditures and would furnish employment to many idle men. One of the arguments in its favor is that it would be a continuation of the existing highway between Mount Vernon and the city of Washington.

That it would be welcomed in Pennsylvania is not to be doubted. The taxpayers of this state are paying their full share —and more—for many dubious experiments, and there is no good reason why they should not benefit by some improvements of a permanent nature.

BRITAIN AS PACIFIER

Among recently reported discoveries is the needless suffering from toothache for hundreds of years because medical science did not know there were such things as nerves. There has been a good deal of other suffering due to these sensitive fibers. Dr. Butler returns from Europe to say: "The trouble with the world today is nerves." He thinks the "crying need now is for a highly skilled political psychotherapist."

That is the role Great Britain is playing in Europe over the German business. It has kept its head too well to please some of the Continental powers, particularly France, which grabs its aching tooth and howls for relief. Britain's temperate, conciliatory note to Germany is denounced in France as "weak" and "ineffective." The fire eaters resent Britain's taking the lead in such a placating way. But there are signs that they are beginning to get control of their nerves and let Britain speak for France and Italy as well as herself.

Sir John Simon's mission to Berlin was made more difficult by the divergence of opinion behind him. He must satisfy the hot heads and cool heads at home, in France, in Italy and in Russia. It is not certain that Hitler's job is any easier for he, too, has conflicting groups of advisers to march between. The old cocks-of-the-walk don't want to make any commitments that would hamper Germany in following its own devices. The more reasonable and more internationally minded would return to Geneva and the family of nations.

The choice for all concerned is the choice they have had ever since the war. Europe's best bet is to encourage the liberal, reasonable groups. Allied diplomacy missed its opportunity when it didn't follow up the gains made by Briand and Stresemann. It may miss its opportunity again, if the vengeful tom-cats are allowed to take control. Not that this would spell war immediately but it would create a greater nervous tension that would mean aches and pains for everybody.

RESULT OF A NEW LAW

More than 8,000 drivers have been affected by the state financial responsibility law which went into effect fourteen months ago, according to W. W. Matthews, director of the division of safety.

This is the law that requires drivers involved in accidents to take out liability insurance or file cash bond if any judgment against them remains unpaid 13 days, or if they are in two accidents in which damage exceeds $200. If they do not meet the requirements their licenses cannot be renewed.

The law, though it may be viewed as drastic by some drivers, provides one of the best safeguards for motorists ever devised. Prior to its enactment there were many instances in which drivers responsible for accidents merely laughed when damages were demanded. One of the customary retorts was: "I haven't got anything. What are you going to do about it?" There was no answer. The innocent person whose car was damaged did his best to overcome his anger, and paid the repairman's bill. The new law changed the situation. Those who believe the measure is too stern should recall that motorists themselves made its passage necessary.

OLD-FASHIONED

From a source which is surprising comes a vigorous espousal of old-fashioned institutions and virtues. The oracle is none other than Judge Ben Lindsay, divorce court jurist and advanced thinker in the field of domestic relations.

Out of the depths of his wisdom and a wealth of experience, Judge Lindsay emerges with the conclusion that the forces of this new day, dislocating religion's balance-staff and education's brakes, have permitted the vast motors of human nature to run free, driving close to social catastrophe.

For the remedy, Judge Lindsay insists, we must look to real home life, to education, to religion and to good old-fashioned marriage until death do us part.

This is a strange doctrine to come from the lips of one who has been regarded generally as an apostle of freedom. Also, it is refreshing in its wholesomeness.

It's about time, we suppose, to get the lawn mower sharpened for the neighbors to use.

REALISTIC PHILOSOPHY

Gullible souls who drink in avidly the irresponsible utterances of demagogues and who accept their unrestrained promises as something of a sacred nature, certain of fulfilment, will gather disillusionment and also enlightenment from the words of Lenin.

Chided on one occasion by reason of his failure to keep promises through which he had stirred the mobs to revolution, the patron saint of the proletariat responded with cynicism which he never took great pains to conceal:

"People who imagine that promises made at the time of revolution are made to be kept do not know how revolutions are made." And the great ideal of freedom, from the viewpoint of the old incendiary, was nothing but a "bourgeois fetish."

Those who are charmed by the siren songs of Huey Long and other visionaries will probably find some day that the principles of deception that govern social revolutions are fundamentally the same as those that control the more fantastic of the proposed economic upheavals.

CIRCUMSTANCES MAKE THE MAN

Occupying an important post, you are well-pleased with yourself.

You give yourself all credit for getting the job.

But can you say honestly that your good fortune is not due to some fortunate break, a certain turn of affairs that threw the position in your way and made it easy to get?

Can you say, without qualification, that what you have gained is entirely through your own efforts?

You may be able to say, truly, that while you had some help to get the job, you are still holding it, and that proves your worth.

But you can call to mind certain others who might have held it as well as you if they could have gotten it.

Fate was not so kind to them, so they have inferior positions.

Many men in big jobs acknowledge that fortunate circumstances put them there.

Some others would not make such an admission.

Well, the bigger the man, the more he realizes his good fortune in getting and keeping what many men of equal ability have been denied.

Thousands of men in small jobs might have done as well as you if they had had your opportunities.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOT EXACTLY REGULAR

When the case was called in criminal court, the judge discovered the defendant charged with a misdemeanor was on hand but had no lawyer. As was his duty, the judge appointed an attorney to defend the accused. It happened the appointee was an ambitious young fellow just graduated from law school.

"Just go into that back room there," the judge told the young lawyer, "and give him the best advice you can." Presently the judge came in and there sat the young lawyer alone.

"Where's your client?" asked the judge.

"Your honor," replied the young lawyer, "you said to give him the best advice I knew and after listening to his story, I thought the best thing he could do was to jump out the window and get as far away as he could.

Let no one ask, "Where did I hear that yarn before?"

Weekly Health Talks

TUBERCULOSIS AND FATIGUE

"In spite of the fine record that has been made against tuberculosis, the fact remains that it is yet the chief cause of death during the adolescent period. This represents a definite challenge to public health officials, teachers and parents alike. Indeed, it is vital to discover why so many older children succumb to this disease. Such information will go a long way properly to safeguard the children's health during the growing years," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, state secretary of health.

"Of the numerous causes responsible for so many adolescent deaths unquestionably fatigue tops the list. Much of this condition in recent years is the direct result of the many activities associated with school life. Numerous interests not related to books are now available that actually were unheard of a generation ago. And most of them are of real cultural value.

"However, it is not hard to appreciate that a child who, for example, belongs to the school band, the orchestra, the literary society, an athletic team, and also takes part in various clubs and social functions, becomes chronically tired before his day is spent. Such exactions really make it next to impossible for him to find time for relaxation and to obtain the essential nine-hour sleep.

"Unfortunate as such a situation may be for some children, fatigue has its easiest approach through sports. The competitive nature of the interscholastic game such as football, baseball and basketball, demands long hours of practice and wearing exertion. And while it is true that most pupils appear to stand these exhausting sports without any damaging effect, the child who has been infected by the tuberculosis germ rarely is so fortunate.

"Therefore, it perhaps would be an excellent routine for every athletic team candidate to be required to show the absence of such an infection by way of a negative Mantoux test. In addition, the physical examination should determine beyond question that no organic heart disease exists.

"Were these two requirements generally applied, sports would then be engaged in by those capable of sustaining them without danger to life or health. Undoubtedly without this knowledge a number of children are playing beyond their strength. And, as indicated, fatigue may be an important factor in the development of tuberculosis and resulting early death.

"Thus it cannot be too forcefully emphasized that extra curricular activities, and especially the scholastic sports, should be limited to the well, non-infected child. Many lives thus will be saved for future usefulness and the tuberculosis death rate noticeably reduced as well."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:17. Sun rises tomorrow 5:53.

New Castle needs to be reminded of the enterprising little hen that wandered from the poultry yard to see the world. Miles away from her home she spied a goose egg, which she laboriously shoved with her beak all the long, long way home. When she had achieved her ambition and the other chickens gathered around her, one declared: "You don't want us to believe that you laid that egg."

To which Biddy replied: "No, indeed, but I just wanted to show you what they are doing in other communities."

Too much of our uplifting, principally among the women, is done with their noses instead of their purses.

It took five shocks in the electric chair to kill Chester Novak, Chicago bandit, who boasted he was the "toughest guy that ever got the hot seat." Well, they weren't wasted anyhow, it would seem.

Solicit funds for a good cause and you'll discover that arteries aren't the only things that harden with age.

If you are about to need help, deal carefully with your friends. They are easy to offend at such times.

Work and save, young man, and some day you'll have enough to divide with those who didn't.

Huey's idea isn't new. The busy bees gather honey and man comes along and divides their wealth.

Hundreds of New Castle people have been interested recently in the dust clouds that have been flying over the city, with a little of it sifting down. It's a part of the big dust storms they've been having out West. First thing we knew we'll be getting a bill from those westerners for top soil.

After all, the fundamental question is whether the Constitution can survive the recklessness of hard times.

Local traffic police say that the Stop signs at street corners are almost total failures, and are at a loss to make cars slow down at the corners. They might try planting a pretty girl there.

Folks who are getting tired listening to some of the "squawking" over the radio, and are longing to hear some real music should drive out in the vicinity of a swamp these evenings. The frogs are starting up their spring concerts and making the welkin ring with their old time melodies. There's nothing quite so fascinating in the spring as the "frog pond chorus".

"Won't you buy this lovely manicure set?" asked the pretty stallholder at a charity bazaar.

The man glanced carelessly at the dainty article and decided it would be very expensive.

"Well," he said, "I'm afraid it would be of little use to me."

"But won't you buy it," pleaded the girl, "for the woman you love?"

For a moment he thought he was properly caught. Then he had a brilliant idea.

"I couldn't do that," he replied. "You see, I'm married."

New York is the latest state to ban the "heart balm" suits. It has been found that where a maiden really sorrows for unrequited love, she seldom ever brings a breach of promise suit. The World At A Glance

New War With Japan.
Beneath The Surface.
More Drouth Predicted.

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—There is a war on with Japan now. It is a war that probably is more devastating than an actual "local" conflict in the Far East.

Great Britain and the United States are blaming Japan. And Japan is blaming the British and the Americans.

Japan Is seizing the textile trade. Lower wages, lower standard of living? Yes. But there is more to it than that.

Great Britain probably has not kept pace with technological development. And prices of raw cotton have been too high for the British.

Japan seems to have sensed where inexpensive cotton may be obtained.

In the United States the situation is far more complicated. A processing tax is assessed against textile manufacturers to maintain a pegged price for cotton. That simply is handing markets to Japan.

But Japan comes back at the Americans and the British with an accusation that they are impoverishing the best markets Japan has —chiefly, China. The United States, with its silver buying policy, has been draining China of its currency backing. And both Great Britain and the United States have devalued their currencies, forcing cheaper trade price and sharper trade practices.

Down go all currencies in sympathy—and each monetary unit buys less and wages either rise to meet that or (as in Japan) do not rise and living standards drop.

If Japanese workers have lower living standards, Japan blames it on the United States and Great Britain.

They, in turn, begin to demand that their own workers live on less, "so business can go ahead".

And if Japan takes over British and American textile trade, it asks: "What else can we do, to make ends meet, since the currency war you began impoverishes our normal markets?"

It is a dizzy dance of death.

BENEATH THE SURFACE

Beneath the surface of European war maneuvers is the desire of each government to cover up failure to effect any economic recovery.

Living standards are declining throughout the world.

THE DROUTH QUESTION

Is last year's drouth area due for another dry year? The spring dust storms seem to hint that.

Herbert Janvrin Browne, long-distance weather forecaster, answers the question in this manner:

"Those states which, designed by nature to be mainly grazing land, have had their surfaces pulverized by crop cultivation, and their primitive little lakes and marshes drained out of existence, are doomed to an indefinite number of dry years."

The official weather bureau scoffs at Browne's predictions, of whole seasons in advance, but big corporations continue to pay stiff rates for them—good evidence that they think they are getting their money's worth. Moreover, it is undeniable that he prophesied the 1934 drouth, as well as more of it in 1935—and here it is, as per prophesy, at least thus far on into the year.

CLIMATE CHANGED

"The fact is," continued Browne, "that the climate of a broad strip east of the Rockies has been changed.

"The territory from the Atlantic to the thirteenth degree of longitude or thereabouts, has its moisture supply swept inland, overhead, from the ocean or the Gulf of Mexico.

"There is no such inland sweep from the Pacific, however; clouds from that direction discharge their load on the western slope of the mountains.

"The intervening belt is dependent in considerable part upon local evaporation, to prime the atmosphere. And, with the disappearance of this region's lakes and swamps, there no longer is a source of supply for the sun to draw upon.

"It never was a region of abundant rainfall, but its supply was sufficient for a substantial turf, to hold the soil down and to feed meat animals.

"But now, dried up by drainage and loosened by the plow, the entire surface of the landscape, in a country of high winds, simply is blowing away, clear to hard-pan. Much of it already has blown away, or is eroded away when rain does fall."

Mar. 26, 1812—The biggest earthquake in American history ceased, simultaneously with an earthquake which destroyed the city of Caracas, Venezuela.

Epicenter of the shocks was near New Madrid, Mo. For 300 miles southward from the mouth of the Ohio river the ground rose and sank in great undulations, and lakes were formed and again drained. The shocks were accompanied by loud explosions, great fissures—sometimes more than a mile in length—were opened in the earth, and from these openings mud and water were thrown high in the air like eruptions from a volcano. Islands in the Mississippi river were sunk, the current of the river was driven back by the rising of its bed, and water went surging over wide areas like a flood.

Mar. 26, 1814—Dr. Joseph Ignace Guillotin died at 76 of natural causes, destined to be immortalized by the machine called the guillotine.

But you're wrong if you believe he invented the machine. He didn't. He had merely suggested that capital punishment should be carried out by decapitation, then performed by a hand-ax.

City Forester Writes Of Winter's Passing

The snow has gone, its waters have washed away the winter from Mother Earth, cleaning it in preparation for the new season. The release of the earth from the cold each year is as old as time but carries with it a beauty always new, spring brings sweet winds that stir the pussywillows where birds will build their nests, writes Owen Fox, city forester.

The ever warming sun of spring soon causes the sap to push open the buds of the red maples, and from the marshes as well as from your gardens come come the first call of the songsparrows.

The drumming of the woodpeckers can be heard clear, and the pleasing song of the low flying bluebird comes with the first days of spring.

Spring dispels the dark clouds above and we see a brighter blue, where soon will be the playground of the swallows. The sturdy oak tree, slow in coming to life, is the hunting ground of the nuthatch, where he hunts the first insects, which make their appearance in the groved bark.

The first warm days of spring bring the grossbeaks which travel in groups of from 40 to 50, stopping off in the wooded sections for a time on their way to nesting places. The pipings of the cardinals are increasing as the days get warmer, chickadees are in tune as they sit on a branch of a birch tree, whose reddening buds will soon unfold a bright green leaf in the April sun.

The coming of a new season unfurls the workings of nature at its best. The pentup feeling that has surrounded one during the winter months seems to respond with a new life at the newness and beauty of the awakening outdoors. The same feeling of spring enters into the wild creatures of nature they to let the world know that they rejoice in the new season. Songbirds flaunt their gorgeous colored feathers in flight, four-footed creatures scurry about the woods with a quicker zest.

It is at springtime that the wild flowers reign supreme. The fresh soil bedecks itself with such flowers as the wild hyacinth with its blue colored blooms, the wild azalea are growing fragrant in rosy masses in the woods, running a race with the spice bushes lemon yellow blooms, which extend a welcome to the bees who have been aroused by the warming sun from their winter's sleep.

The warm sun lightens up the blue blooms of the brookline which are also be found along the brooksides, and the dainty quaker bonnets lift their faces to the stirring winds and nod at the passing birds that sing winter is gone and spring is here, let there be rejoicing among all living creatures.

RABBI SHWARTZ INSTALLED AS SHALOM LEADER

Brilliant Installation Dinner Given By Congregation In New Rabbi's Honor

In honor of their new spiritual leader, Rabbi H. Leon Shwartz, members and friends of the congregation Beth Shalom of New Castle, gathered together Sunday evening at the Cosmo club at one of the most festive and brilliant dinners of the year. Amidst charming settings and lovely music, Rabbi Shwartz was formally installed as the new leader of Congregation Beth Shalom by its officers and Rabbi Rudolph Rosenthal of the Temple on the Heights, Cleveland, O.

The dinner ceremonies were opened by appropriate greetings by Mrs. Samuel Edelstein, the president of the Sisterhood. This was followed by an invocation offered by Rabbi M. Schiffman of Tifereth Israel congregation of New Castle. After the dinner Louis Kohn, president of the congregation, extended greetings and introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Rabbi Rudolph Rosenthal, well known as a brilliant speaker and as a leader in American Jewry.

In an eloquent and inspirational address he stressed the various and important problems facing the American Jew today, with the especial need of unity and cooperation within the folds of American Jewry. He concluded his address with the charge to the congregation and its rabbi to lend their efforts toward a spiritual rehabilitation of the Jewish community.

The addresses of the evening were closed by a response given by Rabbi Shwartz. Throughout the dinner lovely music was rendered by the young artists, Frank Taylor, pianist and Tom Connor, trombonist, who recently won first honors in music contests sponsored by the New Castle high schools, while Andrew De Lorenzo accompanied by Miss Dorothy Fisher, presented an interesting group of vocal numbers which were well received by the dinner guests. The dinner closed with a number of group songs, especially written by Miss Anne Shiffman, for the occasion.

Rabbi Shwartz, the newly installed leader of Congregation Beth Shalom, is a graduate of Ohio State University, where he won honors as a student and a speaker, and later attended the Jewish Institute of Religion of New York City. He has been associated as assistant to Rabbi I. E. Philo of Rodeph Shalom Temple of Youngstown, O., as well as with the Mt. Neboh Synagogue of New York City. He was also the rabbi at the School for the Improvement of the Deaf of New York City.

Approximately 20 petitions favoring new paving have been presented. As yet finis has not been written to the relief work bill carrying an appropriation of 4,880 millions. Why at 40 You Think You're "Growing Old"

At about 40, many people think they're "growing old." They're tired a lot. Have headaches more often. And they're subject to stomach upsets — nausea. Talk of "nerves."

Well, scientists say the cause, in a great many cases, is merely this: a tendency to an acid condition of the stomach. Likely the result of faulty diet.

The thing to do is simply to neutralize excess stomach acids.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, all you do is take a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. Soon you feel like another person.

Signs Which Often Indicate "Acid Stomach"

ACID INDIGESTION — LOSS OF APPETITE
AUTO INTOXICATION — FREQUENT HEADACHES
NAUSEA — FEELING OF WEAKNESS
SOUR STOMACH — SLEEPLESSNESS
MOUTH ACIDITY

What To Do For It

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water in the morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

Stomach calm. Fewer headaches. And the pep and energy you thought lost, comes back again!

Try this. Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS' ", or, the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets — convenient to take with you anywhere.

Also in Tablet Form: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Unethical Legal Practice Hit By Drafted Measure

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG,, Mar. 26—"Ambulance chasers" and attorneys who employ them today became targets of a bill drafted by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to wipe out unethical legal practices.

The bill was designed to abolish such practices as have been charged against attorneys now being investigated by the bench and bar in Philadelphia.

Two other bills drafted by the attorney general and aimed at reforms in the practice of law also were introduced. One, would permit institution of damage suits for death or personal injuries although releases had been previously executed. The other was intended to prevent corporations from encroaching on the private practice of law.

The bill aimed at unscrupulous practices known in legal parlance as barratry would prohibit groundless judicial proceedings, solicitation of lawsuits, prosecution of a suit by an attorney whose services were retained as the result of solicitation, and institution of suits by attorneys without prior authority to do so.

The bill would prevent attorneys from soliciting business from persons awaiting hearing or trial unless they had been previously summoned and would further prevent lawyers from soliciting cases through police officers and making agreements with police to receive advance information of arrests. Other provisions would prohibit advertising of legal services to obtain divorces or annulments.

"I NEVER KNEW A REFRIGERATOR COULD BE SO Complete"

Now 2 to 4 Times as Many Features in the New Leonard

Shrewd buyers who make it a point to get the most for their money are choosing the Leonard these days. They find that no other refrigerator gives them all that the new Leonard does.

Here is a refrigerator that is complete in every sense of the word. In style features. In convenience features. In mechanical features.

Take a look at a Leonard cabinet, for instance. Notice how graceful and well-proportioned it is. And if you examine it closely you'll see that it is just as strong, just as sturdy as it is beautiful and roomy.

And when it comes to convenience features . . . well, Leonard is way ahead! With the LEN-A-DOR, famous door-opening pedal. The automatic interior light. The folding and sliding shelves. The Convenience Basket for dairy products and left-overs. The Cold Chest for sub-freezing storage. And many others that mean much in convenience and economy.

Now if all these things meant that you'd have to pay a lot more for the Leonard, you might be justified in hesitating. But Leonard is actually priced right down with the lowest. And don't forget that Leonard is one of the oldest names in refrigeration, backed by a 54 year old reputation for quality and dependability. So before you buy any refrigerator, come in and see the new Leonard.

No, it is low cloud formations. The difference in height between winter and summer clouds averages 10 per cent for the upper formations and 40 per for the lower ones. The reason for the difference is the relative humidity.

Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about bran. These tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, ALL-BRAN has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use ALL-BRAN to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For ALL-BRAN supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Rotarians, Rural Guests Hear Agricultural Leader At 'Rural Day' Luncheon

"Agriculture, like all industry, is getting its breath right now and in a short time, it'll be ready to go some more," M. S. McDowell, nationally known director of Pennsylvania's notable agricultural extension work, told New Castle's Rotarians and their "Rural Day" guests—57 Lawrence county farmers—at The Castleton on Monday afternoon.

McDowell likened the agricultural industry to a man who had been running and who stopped a short while to rest.

Dinner Annual Affair

The Rotary Club each year plays host to a large number of rural residents from all over Lawrence county and Monday's program, while continuing the yearly tradition, presented to Rotary a chance to reciprocate to the fram group for a banquet tendered the club at Westfield grange a few weeks ago.

Prsiding was President Robert A. Eckles. He called upon Thomas A. Gilkey, member of the club's rural urban committee and close friend of Mr. McDowell to introduce the speaker. Mr. Gilkey called Mr. McDowell "Mick" as in college days at Penn State and Mr. McDowell called Gilkey "Dad."

The Rotarians, before the day's address heard Emanuel Shenkan read a letter to the club from the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children, proposing that Rotary, in conjunction with other clubs here, sponsor a seal sale in behalf of crippled children locally from April 1 to Easter. It is probable the club will conduct the drive.

Shenkan explained that 70 percent of the drive's proceeds will remain in New Castle to promote crippled children's work here, 20 percent would go to the state work and 10 percent to the work nationally.

Agricultural Trends' Topic

Speaking on "Agricultural Trends" a most timely topic, Mr. McDowell, recognized as an agricultural leader throughout the nation, informed the Rotarians that the agricultural extension service as it exists today is "the channel through which is provided information helpful to the farmer." He said federal and state funds maintain it.

Six underlying principles involved in the extension service were listed as these:

First, the people in the rural communities have a direct and active part in the program.

Second, there are definite goals being aimed at.

Third, there is a continuous contact with research branches.

Fourth, the method of actual demonstration of new ideas, new plans is followed.

Fifth, the work is done in groups and not with individuals.

Sixth, the program planning represents an effort to solve those problems which the different rural communities feel should be solved.

Estimating Lawrence county's farms at between 2,200 and 2,400, Director McDowell launched into an explanatory account of what he called "the mechanics of the service." The workings of the service were described.

Science Role Reviewed

Pointing to the role scientific research has played in agriculture as well as in other industrial fields, Mr. McDowell, who for 20 years has guided Pennsylvania's agricultural extension service, asserted that "farmers of 1935 are better than the farmers of 1930, the farmers of '30 better than the '25 farmers and so on." He also made it clear that their livestock and general farm work is better.

"With reduced acreage the yield of potatoes per acre has increased" he told the Rotarians after listing a group of specific agricultural improvements in years past. And he added that "the farmers are looking for the day when there will be a big improvement over existing conditions."

Here for the day as guests with the local farm men was County Farm Agent, Fred Reed, of Kingston, W. Va. He was introduced by Lawrence county's farm agent, Harold R. McCulloch.

The luncheon program was planned and conducted by Rotary's rural-urban committee, including John Offutt, chairman: Thomas A. Gilkey, and Samuel Huey.

Cigars were passed after the dinner by Dr. L. W. Wilson who observed his birthday on Monday.

Jennings who repeated the marriage vows of fifty years ago, the ring ceremony being used. Rev. New Castle's Y. M. C. A. will play host to large delegations of younger boys—between nine and 14 years of age—from five other cities when the annual Younger Boys' conference of the central Western Pennsylvania district takes place here on Friday, March 29.

Boy's Work Secretary, Harry G. McClellan, who will supervise the conference, was busy completing plans for the rally today.

Boys from five other cities, New Kensington, New Brighton, Butler, Sewickley and Tarentum will join New Castle's younger boys for the all day program which will be given over to discussions and a handicraft exhibition. Opening at 10 a. m. the discussion will continue through with a dinner at noon and with adjournment scheduled for 4 p. m.

McClellan said this week's conference is the first Younger Boy's conference to be held here in some time and he anticipates a large crowd here for the day. Boy's work secretaries of the different Y's will accompany their groups here.

Doomed Slayer Takes Up Bible

John Koziar, Confessed Slayer Of Masontown, Pa., Reads Bible In Cell

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 26.—With death in the electric chair in the near future more apparent than ever, John Koziar, confessed slayer of Samson Rosenshein, Masontown jeweler, today sought solace in the Bible.

His attorneys indicated they had little ground for appeal since the defense was restricted very little in the trial. Koziar confessed he had murdered the gem merchant during an attempted burglary. Said Koziar:

"I would like to read the Bible from cover to cover before—it happens."

Koziar said that he "didn't know it was wrong" to break into the Rosenshein home. He said he thought it "was just fun and I got scared."

To Commemorate Saving Of Free Public Schools

No Celebration By School System Here But Rooms Will Hold Events

While there will be no formal celebration by the schools as a system, many of the rooms in the various schools plan to commemorate April 11 this year. Dr. C. C. Green superintendent announced today. The day marks the 100th anniversary of the day Thaddeus Stevens made his famous speech in the Pennsylvania General Assembly which is given credit for saving the free public school system.

The Free Public School law was passed in 1834, and signed on April 1 of that year. In the session of 1885 a bill passed the Senate which repealed the Free Public School Law and the bill came to the House for final passage on Saturday, April 11. The stirring address by Thaddeus Stevens turned the tide against the bill and it was defeated.

A year ago the schools held celebrations commemorating the establishing of the Free Public School Act, and the pageant presented by the New Castle Schools attracted the attention of the Department of Public Instruction.

Johnson Asked For Picture Of Needs Of Relief

Relief Director Also Asked To Furnish Results Of Recent Investigations

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—Preparing to act on Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 tax program, the senate today adopted a resolution requesting State Emergency Relief Director Robert L. Johnson to supply a complete statistical picture of the state's relief situation. A resolution requesting taxation figures from the department of revenue was adopted last week.

Asserting in part "there appear to be grave doubts in the public mind as to the efficiency of methods of distribution now in force," the resolution requested Johnson to furnish the total relief costs since he assumed office, the number of persons on relief, the number employed in relief administration including non-residents and the types of relief furnished.

In addition he was asked to furnish results of his investigations of charges of extravagance and "chiseling" in various counties.

Criminal Has Too Many Legal Devices As Aids

Such Is Declaration At Crime Conference In Beaver County

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, Pa. Mar. 26.—There are too many legal devices to aid the criminal.

The convicted criminal does not fear incarceration in the penitentiary. There isn't enough hard work for convicts to do in prison.

Changes are necessary in the state laws.

These were some of the arguments advanced here today of Beaver county's first conference on crime. Among the speakers scheduled were an educator, a judge, a lawyer, policeman, a fire marshal and a boy scout.

Among the exhibits at the conference, held at the high school, were death masks of the three "babes in the wood," Norma, Cordelia and Dewilla Noakes, their father, Elmos and his 19-year-old niece, Winifred Pierce, who met a tragic death near Carlisle, Pa., fingerprint charts, lie detector and firearms taken from prisoners.

District Attorney A. B. De Castrique urged the law be changed so that a prosecutor can question a man even if he does not take the witness stand in court. He also attacked Senator John J. McClure of Delaware county who has been convicted of violating prohibition laws because the legislator did not take the stand in his own defense.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe of Western Penitentiary told of prison conditions and said in the last 11 years no more than one man who had been a boy scout had been sent there to serve.

Speakers at the session this afternoon and tonight included Judge M. A. Musmanno of Pittsburgh; Forest G. Moorhead, head of the Pennsylvania Bar Association; Andrew T. Benson, Executive Allegheny County West, Boy Scouts of America, and William Hoffman of the state bureau of criminal investigation and information.

De Wolf for 15 years was the active head of the Voters' League of Pittsburgh and organizer and chief magistrate of the Morals Court there. During recent years he has been director of the committee for education in citizenship working through the public and parochial schools in Pennsylvania to establish student citizenship organizations.

Restriction On Fireworks Sale Would Be Placed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26—Drastic restrictions on the sale of fireworks of all kinds are imposed in the bill of Senator William B. Rogers, Allegheny, which was before the senate today.

The measure prohibits the sale of fireworks except by persons given permits by local governments. It specifies that fireworks displays can be staged only by local permit.

If passed, the bill would become effective July 1, 1935, thus affecting the major portion of this year's fourth of July trade.

SEEKS TO FORCE ACTION ON NEW CONSTITUTION

Senate To Vote This Afternoon

Move To Bring Proposal To Floor Of Senate To Be Up To Vote

FORSEE DEFEAT OF MOTION BY SENATE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The senate was scheduled to vote at 4:30 p. m., today on a motion to bring to the floor the administration's constitutional revision bill over the objections of the Republican-controlled constitutional changes committee.

Denied immediate consideration when Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy broke a tie vote by balloting for delay, the motion to discharge was set as special order of business. Democrats, caught unawares by the motion made by Senator Anthony Cavalacante, Fayette, deserted their own member to lay the matter on the table overnight.

Defeat of the motion was freely predicted if it comes to a vote. With one Democrat absent, eight Republicans necessarily must support the motion together with a solid Democratic vote to raise the required 26 votes to discharge the committee. And a solid Democratic vote was not assured.

Attacks Committee

Cavalcante (Cq) accompanied his motion with a vituperative attack on the committee for its failure to report the Ruth bill, which it has considered since January 29 when it came over from the house. He accused Republicans of "putting on a Judas act" by not acting on revision which he said the voters demanded in electing the Democratic administration last November.

Kennedy's vote on the motion of Senator William B. Rodgers, Allegheny, to delay action until today broke a 23-23 tie and marked the first time the lieutenant governor has voted in the Pennsylvania senate since the Brumbaugh administration.

The Ruth Bill provides for a special election May 14 to name delegates to meet in convention June 4 to draft a new constitution. The new document would be submitted to the voters in November of this year. After extensive public hearings, the committee has voted to remove the special election feature, inserting instead provision for a referendum on holding a convention at the September primaries and election of delegates in November.

Gov. George H. Earle last week urged the senate to act expeditiously to provide for constitutional revision but failed to mention specifically his request for the special election procedure, giving rise to authoritative reports he was willing to compromise with the Republicans. He also named a committee of 67 persons to lay the groundwork for the convention's work by studying necessary changes in the existing fundamental law of 1874.

Outdoor Drills Will Be Started

Troop F To Complete Indoor Schedule On Friday Evening

MARCH 29 LAST DATE TO ENLIST

Troop F 103rd Cavalry will turn in the new serge uniforms used in the winter drills at the armory on Friday March 29. This will be the last indoor drill of the season, and all future drills will be held at the Troop Stables on West Washington street extension. The summer uniform will be worn on Friday night when turning in this equipment.

The Armory has been equipped with a new storage room which is moth-proof, thus insuring proper protection for the winter uniforms. Friday, March 29 is the deadline for enlistment before camp. A few vacancies exist and any young men interested must make their applications to Lt. Mitchell not later than this date.

Due to the early date of this year's encampment, and the fact that no recruit school will be held at camp, the enlisted personnel must be enlisted not later than April 1, 1935 to insure 2 months training before camp.

The horses have been shod and are in fine condition for the summer's work.

Mr. Hennon's program consisted of an auction of stamps that were submitted by the members. Quite an amusing an entertaining time was derived from the auction. Thirty-five choice lots went to the different members who were successful in the bidding. This is the first time that the club had ever tried such a program and the success of the evening was due almost entirely to the wit and humor added to it by the auctioneer.

L. de Ruiter of Youngstown, O., was present at the meeting, and he displayed quite a large number of the new Farley imperfs. The next meeting of the club will be on Monday, April 8. The time and the place to be announced later.

Busy Dictators.
Hitler, Peace Angel.
Kemal Speaks Up.
Women, At Fifty.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DODGE CITY, Kan., Mar. 26.—THIS TRAIN is going through Kansas, with little sign of dust storms that have done so much damage. Colorado in one small region reports dust rising five miles into the air. Farmers suggest that "static electricity in the dust kills the wheat or stops its growing.

EUROPE'S dictators borrow ideas from each other. Mussolini, perhaps upnconsciously, copied Rienzi, who ended violently. Hitler saw how well Mussolini's idea worked, and adopted it. Dollfuss tried it in Vienna, ended badly.

Kemal Pasha has made a success of it thus far in Turkey, throwing sultans overboard, Mohammed, the fez, veils for women also. Kemal says:

"If Hitler can defy the league and kick over the Versailles treaty, so can I."

He will fortify the Dardanelles, in spite of the treaty, that created a neutral zone, adjoining the narrow water passage that separates Europe from Asia, at Constantinople.

IN OLD days, Stalin would have had something to say about that. Fortifying the Dardanelles would have meant keeping him and his fleet out of the Mediterranean. It matters little now.

Stalin, who knows that the only real fleet is the air fleet, has the second largest air fleet in the world. If Kemal annoyed him, Stalin could blow up Constantinople, Angora, and the Dardanelles fortifications as well, all comfortably and conveniently from the air.

HITLER, turning with a rapidity that would startle any work, now declares himself guardian angel of Europe, offering to start a world peace guaranteed to last twenty years. That would depend on Japan and Russia.

FRANCE SENDS thirty thousand men closer to the German border, and Mussolini, probably annoyed by imitation dictators forcing themselves into the limelight, announces that he has raised Italy's arm to six hundred and sixty thousand, and will probably increase it to two millions.

Two million soldiers would eat a good deal of food that other Italians would have to supply, and fire off much amunition that would not hit anybody in particular.

If real war came, Mussolini, like others, would rely on his air fleet, rather than send two million men to be gassed from the air.

The next war, if we must have it, will be a bombing, gas-poisoning competition. A few million civilians killed in the first week, which is not improbable, might do more than any amount of talk to bring the twenty years peace.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is "advised by his highest naval and military advisors" that "no immediate war is likely."

That must comfort the President, knowing as he does that this nation is absolutely unprepared for war, with an air force that the British air minister somewhat "top-loftily" but accurately describes as negligible.

THE SENATE, tired out, and, like the rest of the government, anxious to begin the spending, passes the biggest appropriation bill ever passed on earth, four thousand four hundred and eighty million dollars.

The suggestion that four thousand millions be printed in new money to avoid interest charges was rejected indignantly. Bonds will be issued for the four billions and the tax payers, on final settlement plus interest, will pay eight thousand million dollars, instead of four thousand millions that they would pay if the money had been printed. But that would have been "inflation." An amendment to the bill permitting one billion of new "inflation" money will doubtless be eliminated.

Clarence Darrow, able criminal lawyer, earnest and sincere, thinks we ought to have free trade. He would change his mind if Japanese criminal lawyers could imitate Darrow as well as they can imitate our American workmen, come here and defend Leopold and Loeb for $250 instead of the amount paid to Mr. Darrow for saving the lives of the horrible young murderers.

Darrow is more like himself in describing some of our new fangled methods of "distribution" that do not distribute.

"We are paying people not to work, not produce, in order to produce a scarcity so we can get wealthy because we are poor."

MRS. ISABELLA GREENWAY, representing Arizona in Congress, celebrates her 49th birthday, having as principal guest her only grandchild, a small baby.

Young and good looking as ever, "Congressman" Greenway will not worry, as some women do, about the "approaching fifties." The fiftieth birthday is the beginning of the best period in a woman's life, the period of highest intelligence and charm, lasting from fifty to eighty, and longer.

Wise Providence postpones full development of woman's intellect until after fifty because, until that age, she should not concentrate too seriously on anything except the production of good children.

THE GERMAN Lufthansa Air Company, with perfect Diesel engines for airplanes, has already constructed giant planes that travel 135 miles an hour with oil fuel. This means low cost flying from the Atlantic to the Pacific, $10 a passenger or less, when really big planes are built. It also means more trouble if war comes.

Girl Held For Passing Notes For Blackmail

Thirteen-Year-Old Girl Is Held By Police At Greensburg, Pa.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 26.—A 13-year-old girl was held by police here today on a charge of accessory to blackmail after she was alleged to have delivered notes for her brother demanding blackmail.

She is Martha Keffer, sister of John W. Keefer, 20, of Van Meter, who is being held on a charge of blackmail by the state police.

Detectives charged at a hearing before a magistrate Keffer had given his sister the notes to carry to Frank and Herman Springer, farmers and brothers, of Rostraver township. He sought $2,500, police say.

Otis B. Miller, 26, negro, arrested Saturday as a suspect, was formally released. The girl was turned over to custody of juvenile authorities.

Plan Extension Of C.C.C. Work

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26—A vast extension of work for the CCC, although it has sufficient funds to last only this week unless congress finally enacts the $4,880,000,000 works relief before April 1, was provided today through the purchase of 696,000 acres for the national forests by the National Forest Reservation Commission.

Options already have been taken on the lands, which include establishment of a number of new national parks, and additions to others in almost every wooded section of the country. The program calls for expenditure of $2,998,000—approximately $4 an acre for the timberlands.

Among the forest projects approved are:

The purchase in the Appalachian region totaled 210,000 acres.

Chief of the purchases by states, with the forest regions named, were:

Pennsylvania, Allegheny, 2,685 acres. Monongahela (partly in West Virginia) and George Washington (also part in West Virginia, 82-247 acres.

Self Defense Is Plea Of Father In Son's Death

Joseph Hornyak, 58, McKeesport, Says He Killed Son In Self Defense

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 26.—Joseph Hornyak, 58, McKeesport, took the stand in his own defense here today and testified the razor-slaying of his 21-year-old son, Steve, was unintentional and in self-defense.

Failing to demand the death penalty, the commonwealth indicated in the presentation of its case it would be satisfied with a voluntary manslaughter verdict.

Hornyak informed the jury an argument of a visit to relatives preceded the fatal quarrel. His son, he said, attacked him, tore his shirt and struck him with a clothes prop.

The defendant denied he had been drinking heavily. He said he held a razor because he was preparing to shave when the dispute arose.

Frozen Body Of Mine President Found In Quebec

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, March 26—Searchers today found the frozen body of Stanley E. Siscoe, president of the Siscoe Gold mines. A few miles from lake Matchimanitou in the gold mining section of northern Quebec.

Discovery of Siscoe's body followed the finding last night of his companion and pilot, Captain Thomas Wrathall, at a lake near Senneterre, Quebec. Wrathall was alive and safe.

The two men left Montreal by airplane a week ago to inspect some mining property in the Rouyn district of Quebec province. They were seen last flying over the Rouyn district. And then were unreported for days after they had been forced down by unfavorable weather.

According to reports reaching aviation officials here, Siscoe lost his life searching for aid.

Simses And Culbertsons In Bridge Contest

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—You could hardly tell it was a bridge battle between matrimonial mates.

The Simses and the Culbertsons were speaking to each other individually and collectively (at least in public).

Mister and Missus P. Hal Sims were leading today by 2200 points over Mister and Missus Ely Culbertson in the opening shuffle-tussel of their three-week contract bridge go.

But only four rubbers were played and that's not time enough for anybody to gloat or lose their temper

One reason given for the meeting between two of the nation's foremost bridge players in tandem is to settle the question as to whether husbands and wives can play together peaceably. And to determine whether the female of the bridge species plays as noteworthy a game as the male.

The atmosphere at the opening round of the 150-rubber contract bridge match was distinctly social. In the Louis XIV room of the Crockford Club, an arena was set up with silken ropes guarding the tubesteel bridge table and chairs occupied by the contestants.

Invited guests in evening attire were located on platforms outside the ropes. The gallery gently whispered its approval or disapproval of the play except for one instance.

The uprising was suppressed by Culbertson announcing:

Democratic House Ready To Take Final Action On Tax Bills

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—Overriding repeated Republican attacks, the Democratic majority in the house today was set to dispose of virtually all the remaining bills in Gov. George H. Earle's tax program, now in excess of $214,000,000, and send them to the senate.

Eight tax measures designed to raise in excess of $30,000,000 for the coming biennium were on the calendar to be disposed of finally today as special orders of business. Headed by the $20,000,000 six per cent tax on the net income of corporations. The group included bills escheating unclaimed funds in banks, imposing a tax on gross premiums of mutual insurance companies, increasing the tax on bank stocks and taxing electricity a half mill.

Democrats in the house last night passed finally and sent to the senate the Decker bill expected to yield $32,500,000 by taxing the gross receipts of manufacturers and the Achterman bill expected to save $4,300,000 by transferring collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes to the department of revenue.

Two Bills Returned

Two of the administration tax bills were returned to committee to be discarded when it was found at the last minute they overlapped other revenue raisers. These were the Ominsky bill extending the gross receipts tax to domestic manufacturers, covered by the Decker bill, and the Robinson bill, extending the gross receipts tax to gas, water and steam companies, covered in a bill passed by the house last week. The two bills imposing taxes on premiums of mutual insurance companies were postponed until today because of minor amendments necessitated by typographical errors.

Because of confusion attending the Democratic move to send the Ominsky bill back to committee. The Decker bill was passed 116 to 82 without expected debate. It was not until after the vote was announced that Republican leaders became aware the sweeping revenue raiser had passed the lower branch without the customary baptism in minority fire.

To Tranfer Patronage

By a vote of 116 to 81, the house passed the Achterman bill transferring inheritance and mercantile tax collections from the auditor general's department after Rep. Ellwood Turner, Delaware, Republican floor leader, declared its only purpose was to transfer patronage from a Republican department to the Democratic department of revenue.

Rep. Frank W. Ruth, Berks, Democratic floor leader who returned after an absence of three weeks because of illness, urged the legislature to act speedily on the governor's tax proposals, warning the house the state was threatened with a loss of federal relief funds unless it was prepared to contribute its share beginning after April 15. He charged the State Chamber of Commerce, Pennsylvania State Bar Association and "such rackets" were delaying enactment of the administration constitutional revision bill intended to permit borrowing for emergency needs.

Ruth's address brought Turner to his feet with a declaration that constitutional revision would not meet the present emergency. Declaring $40,000,000 was needed at once to meet current needs for hospitals, schools and relief, Turner offered a resolution asking for the appointment of a committee of five members to devise means of meeting the crisis. The resolution was referred to committee.

Says Miners Strike Call Unauthorized

Ryan's Strike Call Not Action Of U. M. W. Representatives Announce

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—The strike called by Martin Ryan in the soft coal fields of Western Pennsylvania for April 1 was unauthorized, Phillip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, said today. William Hynes, president of the district in which Ryan lives, joined Murray in the statement.

"Ryan doesn't represent any one, but defying the laws and policies of the United Mine Workers," Murray added. "He is a self-constituted leader, wholly irresponsible and is obviously attempting to create division within the ranks of the organization which is undoubtedly inspired by people whose interests are inimical to the United Mine Workers."

Appalachian bituminous coal operators and the United Mine Workers today continued negotiations for a new wage contract to supplant the one which expires April 1. These negotiations have been in progress for several weeks but have been without substantial progress toward agreement.

The mine workers want a contract calling for a substantial increase in the wage structure, 30-hour week and better working conditions. The operators want the existing contract retained.

John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, said 300,000 miners would walk out April 1 unless a new contract is signed.

Nelson's Pal To Get Life Term

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 26—John Paul Chase, sooting pal of the late George "Baby Face" Nelson, today faced a life term behind federal prison bars for the murder of inspector Samuel P. Cowley of the department of justice.

With his usual calm the former California bootlegger heard a jury return a verdict of guilty "without capital punishment," which automatically fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

The jury brought in its verdict after only two ballots, taking three hours to deliberate.

Chase was brought to trial for his part in the Barrington, Ill. gun battle last Nov. 27 in which inspector Cowley, and a federal agent Herman Hollis and "Baby Face" Nelson were slain in an attempt to capture Nelson, then "public enemy No. 1."

The mission believes many New Castle residents may deside to donate furniture odds-and-ends when they have finished housecleaning this year. If such is the case, the mission truck stands ready to call for donations.

'Why' Gentlemen Prefer Blondes?

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 26—The mystery of why gentlemen prefer blondes has been solved by J. E. Burke, trade commissioner for the Kansas City chamber of commerce and secretary of the Midwest Merchants Retail council. He says.

"It's because blondes are cheaper to dress. The range of colors most becoming to a blonde are decidedly limited in comparison with the great variety that look well on a brunet."

St. Michaels Win Church Floor Championship

St. Michaels Chase Sacred Hearts Jinx In 31 To 27 Victory

St. Michaels Victorious In Three Extra-Periods Over Hearts At "Y" Floor

Finest Game Of Year, Carik, Motsko, Chernyavsky Stars Of Battle

St. Michaels church basketball team ascended to the heights last night of championship fame by "outjinxing a jinx' and taking a 31 to 27 victory over the Sacred Hearts in a game that carried the New Castle Church league title with it. Never has a better basketball game been played at the "Y". It required three extra-three minute periods to decide the titanic struggle, and the St. Michaels came through.

St. Michaels Great

A crowd that packed the "Y" floor's every available inch of space sat spellbound as the St. Michaels coached by Michael "Jake" Babovsky battered the Sacred Hearts into submission after almost an hour of terrific floor play. At the end of the first half the score was 11-11, it was that kind of a game. The Sacred Hearts had defeated the St. Mikes three times previously this year, it was almost a forgone conclusion that it would happen again, bpt Balla, Motsko, Chernyavsky, Carik, J. Slosernick, Hnat and Mackiewicz thought different. Every road must have an ending, and the Sacred Hearts "jinx' came to the blind-alley last night. Not that the Hearts under Rocco P. Viggiano did not try, they did, but the St. Michaels was an inspired quintet, and that just about tells the story.

Play Is Fast

Motsko, J. Slosernick and Balla supplied the St. Mikes points in the first half, with Viggiano, Gallagher and Cooper doing the scoring for the Sacred Hearts. The play was fast and furious in the first two periods. The St. Michaels were dogged determined that the Hearts would not take the coveted victory

The St. Michaels led 24 to 23 with a half minute to play and one of the St. Mikes players left the court, the referee "Bub" Jones calles a foul and the Hearts made it good. The regulation game ended 24-24. The St. Michaels had the game all sewed up in the bag ready to take it home and then zowie the Hearts tied it up on a technicality.

Three Extra Periods

The first extra-period produced some fast playing with Viggiano making a field goal that just about put the Hearts over the fence, but with about seven seconds left Johnny Carik came through with a field goal that kept the score tied at 26-26 as the first extra-period drew to a close. In the second extra-period the Hearts got a foul and the St. Michaels got a foul to make it 27-27. The third extra-period found the St. Michaels "setting sail" for the championship with Andy Motsko and 'Shimmy" Balla caging fouls and Johnny Slosernick making a field goal, while the Hearts could not score.

No Individual Stars

It would be hard to pick out any individual stars from the great game, but one must throw a few orchids at Walter Chernyavsky the St. Michaels center. who played the best game of his career and while he didn't score from the field, was a tower of strength at passing and helping his mates. Andy Motsko and Johnny Carik divided scoring honors for the St. Michaels with eight points apiece. "Peanuts" Hnat had five points and "Shimmy" Balla who was a marked man in the game, had three points. J. Slosernick had six points and was one of the heroes of the game. It was cooperation that carried the Babovskymen through.

For the Sacred Hearts the playing of Gallagher and Cooper was the best with nine points apiece. Viggiani and Merando also played fine basketball.

St. Michaels Happy

The St. Michaels are celebrating their victory, the first time that they have ever won the championship, it is a comparatively new team to basketball in New Castle compared to the other teams in the church league, but with a fighting determination to win, the St. Mikes occupy the highest place in the church league as champions, and there is no more deserving team anywhere.

The summary—

Greenskeeper Reed And Force Of Men Are Working On Greens And Fairways

With the advent of favorable weather, Greenskeeper Johnny Reed and his force of men have started work on getting the Municipal Golf Course in shape for play.

The fairways ar being rolled to smooth them down and work has been started on top-dressing the greens. It is expected to take about two weeks to get the course in shape for regular play, and this work will be expedited if the present kind of weather continues.

A meeting of the golf committee was held last evening at the City Building, when matters pertaining to the course were discussed. The same rates as prevailed last year, will again be in force, ie: $10 for an adult season membership. $15 for a man and wife or man and minor child: $5 for juveniles under 21, and twenty-five cents per nine holes. The special Monday rate of twenty-five cents for 18 holes will prevail up to 3 o'clock on Mondays.

The course was seeded down last spring and the results of this are expected to be manifested this year, when a thicker turf should be noted on the fairways.

Start Drawing For Sweepstakes

Americans Draw Thomond The Second One Of Favorites Of Aintree Race

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN, Mar. 26—Fortune's drum began to turn on the stage of the Plaza ballroom here today as the draw began for $8,404,895 in the Irish hospitals' sweepstake on the grand national steeplechase.

Sixteen persons will be richer by $150,000 each when the race is run at Aintree, England, Friday. They are the ones who draw tickets on the horse that places first. Second horse will win $75,000 for 16 others, and third will get $50,000 each.

Anybody who draws a horse, whether the entry runs or not, will receive a prize of $3,975, it was announced.

Five horses topped the betting on the grand national, one of Britain's greatest classics, the wagers bringing far up into the millions the sums involved in the face.

Latest odds on the favorites, as quoted in the last "Call Over" in London, were:

Miss Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller, winner of the grand national last year, 7 to 2; Jock Whitney's Thomond the Second, 13 to 2; F. E. Peek's Tapinois, 9 to 1; Major Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown, 20 to 1, and George H. Bosticks Castle Irwell, 20 to 1.

Prize Funds Drop

Britain's new lottery laws, banning participation in foreign lotteries or publication of their results in Great Britain were blamed by Lord Powerscourt, chairman of the Irish hospitals' trust, in announcing that the prize fund had dropped from $10,430,175 in the last sweepstake to $8,404,895 in the present one.

American luck began to emerge from the huge drum almost after the first roll of the millions of counterfoils.

The first horse drawn was the second-favorite, Thomond the Second. Americans who hold tickets on this flashing barrier-jumper include:

Thomas J. Roszki, New York; "Clear Sailing," New York; "Erin Go Bragh," Buffalo, N. Y.

Reynoldstown, 20-to-1 shot that ranks as fourth favorite, was drawn by the following Americans:

Ray Gold, Bronx, N. Y.; Ann Goldberg, Philadelphia; "Five Glasses," Philadelphia.

Baer-Schmeling Bout Is Planned

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 26—Unless boisterous Bill Brown, the only audible member of the boxing commission, is out-voted at today's meeting, the heavyweight championship fight between Max Baer and Max Schmeling is liable to wind up out of town, either in Philadelphia or Chicago.

This was clearly indicated this morning wher. one member of the under-the-table entente, James J. Johnston, of Madison Square Garden, was most evasive if not incoherent on the subject of a Schmeling- Braddock semi final fight, and the other, Joe (Heil, Hitler) Jacobs, Manager of Schmeling, was distinctly explicit. He said Schmeling would come to America only to fight Baer for the title.

Order Laid Down

To complete the record, it may be added that boisterous Bill has declared that Schmeling must first meet Braddock or there will be no Schmeling-Baer fight in New York. Of course, Bill represents only one vote against two, the latter being represented by General John J. Phelan and Col. D. Walker Wear.

The general is testy—and futile. The colonel stays in his upstate home and is called in mostly on consultation. In a word, he runs this job largely by ear.

White Sox Will Bank On Rookies

Has Few Veterans On Team, Topped Chicago Cubs In Spring Series Of Games

By WALLACE X. RAWLES
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 26.—Manager Jimmie Dykes has been slow to release his rookies.

Indicating he hoped to strengthen the Chicago White Sox starting lineup, Jimmie was particularly patient in training camp at Pasadena with the newcomers.

Patient, that is, until the regular hurlers started to "bear down" after freeing themselves of creaks and groans that gather in pitching bones during the winter.

White Sox Confident

Although lacking a "Babe" Ruth or a "Dizzy Dean" for color, and not regarded as likely to win the American League title unless southern typhoons create gasping fatalities in the ranks of the New York Yankees, the Boston Red Sox, the Athletics, the Tigers, the Senators, the Browns and the Cleveland Indians, the White Sox at least had the early satisfaction of taking a wide edge in their first games with the Chicago Cubs.

The Sox incidentally have been more than a little successful in their other exhibition game. Yesterday, for example, they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10 to 7, thus snapping a 7-game winning streak by the Buccaneers.

Lineup Is Set

Dykes tipped his hand on his possible starting line-up when the following employes of the White Sox payroll were allowed to remain throughout most of the exhibition games, in the following order:

Hayes, 2B; Haas, RF; Simmons, cf; Bonura, 1b; Hafey, lf; Appling, ss; Dykes, 3B; Sewell, c, and a miscellaneous assortment of mound laborers including George Earnshaw, Johnny Whitehead, Vernon Kennedy, Babe Phelps, Whitelow Wyatt, and Joe Vance.

John Michaels has recovered with reasonable early season speed from "the misery" and Michaels reported improvement from a sore arm "Zeke" Bonura has enjoyed a bananza of exhibition hits. In one game he made a double and three singles. He was pleased. So was Dykes. Ray Radcliff made a spirited bid for a regular position in the White Sox outfield.

Dykes Works Hard

Dykes has worked hard with his players and those to aspire to such classification. The only time he seemed a bit upset was not, curiously, when he lost an exhibition game, but when the New York Yankees released "Babe" Ruth to the Boston Braves, a team in the National League.

"It's a shame," said Dykes. "After all Babe has done for the American League in general and the Yankees in particular they turn him out to pasture in Boston, of all places. It wasn't right. Babe'll show 'em".

Strive To Solve Brutal Slaying

Number Of Clues Being Followed In Slaying Of Howard Sidley Near Mercer

(International News Service)

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 26—The "most cruel and brutal murder in the history of Mercer county," was somewhat nearer a solution today but District Attorney J. W. Nelson officially announced he would give out no information at present.

The slaying was that of Howard Sidley, 30, gasoline filling station operator, brutally hacked to death by a person or persons who invaded his establishment between Grove City and Mercer March 16.

Number of Clues

Nelson said police have questioned more than 100 persons and have ridden 1,000 miles in their investigation. He declared:

"We have picked up a number of clues. We are holding a shirt with blood spots on it and shoes of a man I will not name. We are also holding a suspect who will remain incognito until he is discharged or charges are preferred.

"The shirt has been sent to a chemist for analysis. Everything that has been possible has been done to solve the murder. We hope to have something official very soon."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE BEST-LOVED MEN

It isn't all in getting rich, it isn't all in winning fame,
A bigger thing than victory is how you've tried to play the game;
Success is keeping faith with men and standing true to what is best,
And finding joy in humble things and being fit for every test.

The good man need not come to wealth nor need he rise to world renown,
Not often is the richest man the best-loved citizen in town;
You'll find he walks in humble ways and modest is the garb he wears,
And on his back from day to day life piles a multitude of cares.

His glory is a generous heart, a voice that carries hope and cheer,
A willingness to do his work, a wish to be of service here;
He asks no favored place from life, nor shirks the hardships in his way,
But meets all men with head erect and plays the friend from day to day.

The best loved man in any town is honest, manly, brave and true,
Sharing his life with all who live, doing what work he finds to do;
He may not climb the heights of fame nor come to treasure's golden fee,
But he is still accounted great in all
God asks a man to be.

N. Sewickley Board Selects Teachers

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 26.—When members of the North Sewickley township school board met in regular session last evening at the Wiley Hill school house they elected teachers for the 1935-36 school term.

The personnel of the teaching staff was greatly changed due to the fact that no married teachers were re-elected and only six of the former teachers retained. Announcement will be made in a few days of the list of teachers for the coming term who will be assigned to the 14 rooms of the township.

Jesse Reilly, George Washington and Stanley Lainer, all colored, of Mt. Washington near Beaver who were arrested by Constable Wiley on charges of theft of a stove from the Wiley Hill school, were taken to the Beaver county jail today to await trial.

Many stoves in this and other nearby townships have been stolen during the past several months. It is believed that the stealing was the work of an organized gang and the arrest of these men may lead to the conviction of others implicated.

Residents of these districts have been much annoyed by the loss of the stoves and a reward of $100 was offered by the directors for any information leading to the arrest of the culprits.

FATHER AWAKENS BARELY IN TIME

HEAVY SENTENCES GIVEN 121 OTHERS

Germany Is Enraged By Execution Sentences—See Political Moves

(BULLETIN)
International News Service

MEMEL, Lithuania, Mar. 26.—Climaxing a treason trial that may have a profound effect upon the present precarious situation in Europe, four prominent Lithuanian Nazi leaders were sentenced to death today.

They were among 123 accused of murdering a fellow-Nazi named Jesuttis, whom they suspected of betraying their alleged plot to overthrow the Lithuanian regime in Memel and establish a Nazi dictatorship.

Heavy sentences were meted out to most of the remaining 121. Two were sentenced to life imprisonment and others to terms ranging from eight to twelve years.

Thirty-five of the defendants were released. The property of all those convicted was ordered confiscated.

Germany Enraged

Berlin, Mar. 26.—Death sentence meted out to four Nazis convicted of treason and murder at Kovno clearly shows "both trial and verdict were dictated by political motives," a spokesman for an enraged Germany, declared this afternoon.

"The verdict," he continued, "will only evoke disgust over Lithuanian justice. It can only be hoped the powers signatory to the Memel statute will step in and see that justice is done."

It was understood news of the Memel verdict reached Chancellor Hitler in the midst of his presentation of Germany's armaments argument to British foreign secretary Sir John Simon.

He promptly broke off his argument and spoke at length to the British visitors regarding the Memel problem, it was reported.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Quite a bit of plowing is being done by the farmers in various sections of the county, Pa Newc noted on a trip through the countryside yesterday.

One lone daffodil was blooming in the yard of the place where Tony Li Castro, alleged gangster, was found murdered, a visit to the place yesterday revealed. Li Castro is buried in a local cemetery and there probably will never be any flowers blooming on his grave.

Dear Pa Newc:

Frank Coen, game protector for Lawrence county, told me of a goshawk that was killed Monday at the Knight farm a half mile beyond Highland Heights. The goshawk is quite rare in these parts and Mr. Coen said that it was the first that he had seen in this section. The goshawk is a close ally to the English Falcon and is a very destructive bird. The goshawk is noted for its great speed and it uses its very long tail as a rudder, which enables it to make maneuvers which are eye deceiving quick. The goshawk is the most beautiful of the hawk family.

"PAY-AS-YOU GO" GOVERNOR FINDS LEGISLATURE BALKY

It's One Thing To Advocate And Another To Achieve, Michigan Executive Learns

By BERT STOLL
Central Press Correspondent

LANSING, Mich., March 26—A battle royal is raging between Michigan's new "pay-as-you-go" Republican governor, Frank D. Fitzgerald, and recalcitrant members of the state legislature.

On the one hand, Governor Fitzgerald is fighting to put across his platform for reorganizing the state government and placing it, as he says, on a strictly business basis. Arrayed against him, and seeking to balk his efforts and hold up the program of administration bills while they seek patronage for their friends back home, are various members of the legislature.

Patronage Demanded

With Republicans holding 21 out of 33 seats in the state senate, it would appear that the Republican governor would have little diffculty in getting his economy program through that branch of the legislature. But many of the newly elected

Compromise Trend On State Tax Program Leans To Sales Tax

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The Republican-controlled senate flung down the gauntlet today to the administration's tax program and paved the way for a decisive vote on the gas tax booster to force a compromise.

Anticipating the move, administration leaders acted to prevent collapse of Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 program of new taxes by preparing to draft substitute imposts cloaked in mystery except for a flat denial that they included any form of a retail sales tax.

The senate finance committee brought out the $40,000,000 Eberharter bill tacking two more cents on every gallon of gasoline only a few hours after hearing it vigorously opposed at a public hearing. It was up for second reading today as G. O. P. forces mustered votes to defeat the bill tomorrow or next Monday. A spokesman said:

"Every indication points to a vote on Wednesday or Monday which will kill the bill for this session."

The decision to attempt to carve out a huge chunk of Governor Earle's tax program, thus forcing substitute taxes or drastic modification of the administration budget for relief, was taken in the face of Democratic warnings that federal relief funds will be chopped off on April 15 unless the state acts to pay part of the bill. The senate's bold move marked an end to the lethargy of inaction in the upper chamber prevailing since the session started.

See Retail Sales Tax

Although they did not say so during the dramatic hour in which the administration program was subjected to Republican fire from the senate floor. Leaders admitted they were aiming their program to force a retail sales tax.

In this they received unexpected endorsement from Democratic ranks when Senator George A. Rupp, Lehigh, announced himself opposed to the gas tax increase and in favor of a sales tax. A sales tax, he said, would distribute the task of paying for relief over all residents.

President Leaves Problems Behind For Congressmen

Legislative Leaders Facing Many Big Problems In Near Future

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—President Roosevelt sped southward today for a brief respite from his troubles, leaving behind a set of congressional leaders gloomily contemplating the rest of the session. Most of them would like to be going south, too.

In whatever legislative direction the leaders looked they saw trouble and bickering over bills which Mr. Roosevelt insists be enacted before adjournment. If any serious attempt is made to enact the whole program, congress may well be in session all summer.

Before leaving, the president told his congressional leaders he definitely wants to have passed:

Bills Desired

The social security program, involving old age pensions and unemployment insurance.

The NRA extension act.

The legislation to drastically regulate or eliminate certain types of holding companies in the utility field.

A bill to increase the HOLC capitalization by $1,750,000,000.

A bill to give the Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction over all types of commercial transporta-

Pennsylvania Power Company Files Schedule At Harrisburg

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The Pennsylvania Power company today filed with the Public Service commission reductions in electric rates to residential, commercial and small power consumers expected to result in savings of $138,900 a year on present consumption.

The new schedules will go into effect April 15 for 40,000 customers in Lawrence and Mercer counties and portions of Beaver, Butler and Allegheny counties. The company's home office is in New Castle.

Residential consumers will receive the largest reductions, $84,000 of the total. The remainder was divided as follows: rural line extention $14,200; commercial lighting, $24,100; small power, $11,600 and street lighting, $5,000.

Residential Rates

Two residential rates will be effective under the schedules, one for Sharon and New Castle and the other for suburban customers outside those areas. An "objective rate", lower than the "immediate rate," was included in the schedule to apply to all customers using more electricity in any month in the future than during the corresponding month the year before. This rate provides that residential customers in the company's entire territory can, by increasing their use of electric current, obtain more kilowatt hours at no cost, or at a greatly reduced rate. This form of rate is commonly referred to as the Commonwealth and Southern plan, and has been widely adopted in the southeastern area of the United States, it is stated.

As an example, a residential consumer who used 50 kilowatt hours last April paid $2.85. Under the new schedule, he would pay $2.65 this year for 50 kilowatt hours but under the "objective" rate he could use up to 64 kilowatt hours for the same cost.

Will Oppose Move To Boost Federal Taxes

Tax Amendments To Be Ruled Out In "Pink Slip" Repeal Action

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—With the administration apparently opposed to any increase in federal taxes for the present, senate leaders today proposed to block the offering of tax "riders" to the bill repealing "pink slip" income tax publicity.

An administration spokesman, under the plan, will make a point of order against any amendment proposing higher taxes on the ground tax legislation is not germane to the repeal bill. He will contend tax legislation must be initiated in the house under the federal constitution and that the "pink slip" repeal measure is not a tax bill.

Vice President Garner is said to be ready to submit this question to the senate for decision. With the Democrats wielding a two-thirds majority, tax amendments would be ruled out of order under such a procedure.

Three seperate tax proposals have been aired. One by Senator LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, would increase income taxes by $300,000,000 through higher normal and surtaxes. Another by Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan, would raise $300,000,000 by higher corporation taxes. A third considered by a group of conservative Republican leaders, would propose a wide range of new and higher taxes to balance the budget.

Under the Democratic plan now contemplated, all three proposals would be ruled out of order.

RAW MATERIAL EXPORT BAN ORDERED IN FRANCE

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Mar. 26.—In a measure designed to accumulate and preserve war resources in preparation for any emergency, the French council of ministers today imposed a ban on the export of raw materials used in the manufacture of armaments and other essentials of defense.

Spokesmen at the foreign office insisted the measure could by no means be construed as an economic blockade, but it followed by 24 hours a billion-franc increase in naval appropriations for new construction and steps to protect the civilian population of France from aerial bombardment.

The export ban was officially announced as applying to "certain raw materials."

These were assumed to be mag-

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26—Warned in Washington that federal relief payments will cease unless the state assumes its share of the $20,000,000 a month burden not later than April 15, Gov. George H. Earle today conferred with administration leaders in an effort to hasten action on his $203,000,000 tax program now virtually all in the senate.

The ultimatum was laid down by Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, at a conference with the governor late yesterday afternoon. Hopkins agreed to furnish $10,000,000 for the first two weeks in April but further federal aid, he warned, will depend upon the govenor's success in raising $5,000,000 a

Mandamus On Controller To Pay Engineer

T. A. Gilkey Claims Controller Refuses To Pay Balance On Viaduct Plans

WAS PAID $800 BUT WANTS $4,805 MORE

Civil Engineer Thomas A. Gilkey presented a petition in court this morning for a writ of mandamus on County Controller, R. C. McCaslin to compel the county to pay him $4,805, alleged to be due for drawing plans for the Croton Avenue viaduct.

The petition recites that a city ordinance was passed in September, 1925, laying out a street from the intersection of Walnut street and Croton avenue to a point on Lincoln avenue.

Viewers were appointed, the report approved and laid before a grand jury which made a favorable report.

Gilkey sets forth that he was regularly employed as county engineer by the county commissioners, and on July 20, 1933 the county entered into a contract with him to draw plans for a viaduct. The plans were completed in February, 1934.

Under the terms of the contract Gilkey claims that there was a proviso, that in case the viaduct was not built he was to receive 2½ per cent on the estimated cost.

He estimated the cost at $224,000, and under the contract claimed $5,605. On October 11, 1934 he was paid $800, leaving a balance of $4,805. A bill for this was presented to County Controller R. C. McCaslin, who refused to pay it.

The present writ is issued to compel payment. Judge R. L. Hildebrand has fixed April 15 as a time for a hearing.

GERMAN ARMS VIEWS BEING PRESENTED

Sir John Simon Gets New Program To Unwrap At Allies' Conference

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 26.— The Anglo-German arms talks, interrupted when Chancellor Hitler received word in the conference room of the Lithuanian Nazi death sentences which have shocked the Reich, and later by a lavish luncheon at the British embassy, were resumed in a tense atmosphere at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Fuehrer, it was understood, proposed to British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon a detailed system of bilateral agreements as a substitute for the French multilateral treaty thesis.

Hitler was reported ready to take conciliatory step toward the French in agreeing not to aid any aggressor provided his bilateral system is adopted.

Provide New Basis

The chancellor's views were regarded here as providing Sir John with a new percel to unwrap at Stresa when Britain, France and Italy meet there on April 11 prior to the extraordinary League of Nations council session convoked by France to "try" Germany for alleged violation of the Versailles treaty.

Reuter's correspondent said Hitler's main armament argument was summarized by a British official with the words "total disarmament if all other states disarm and inten-

SEE WORK-RELIEF BILL APPROVAL

Final Action Seen This Week

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—Administration leaders, anxious to lay the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill on President Roosevelt's desk, today planned to send the measure to conference by a house vote.

The determined opposition of the house "silver bloc," which demanded acceptance of the senate's Thomas silver coinage amendment, was the chief obstacle in the path of the program laid down by house leaders.

Expect Speedy Approval

Despite this opposition, Speaker Byrns is confident the measure will be sent to conference with the senate and be finally approved by Saturday.

Extraordinary parliamentary tactics were adopted by house leaders to circumvent the backers of mandatory coinage of silver bullion at $1.29 an ounce.

A special rule, sending the bill to conference will be offered by Chairman O'Connor (D) of New York, of the rules committee. Its adoption would prevent the silverites from making their effort to accept all the senate amendments, and thus end the congressional journey of the bill.

Led by silver-thatched Rep. John A. Martin (D) of Colorado, the "silver bloc" planned to fight the leaders' plan.

President Roosevelt, it was authoritatively reported, not only objects to the mandatory silver amendment, but also frowns upon other changes made in the senate which would restrict his authority in spending the money.

"PAY-AS-YOU-GO" GOVERNOR FINDS LEGISLATIVE BALKY

Republican senators have aligned themselves in a bloc, under the leadership of Lieutenant Governor Thomas Read and State Senator Earl W. Munshaw, and have served notice on the governor that he must give political jobs for their friends in return for legislative co-operation.

In a recent radio address Governor Fitzgerald told citizens that he would block any attempt by the legislature to nullify his state economy program. The governor emphasized that the bills of his legislative program are aimed at reducing the expense of state government.

"Pay as you go—that was the theme song of my campaign," Governor Fitzgerald said.

Governor's Program

Thus did the governor serve notice on rebellious members of the legislature that he is sticking by his guns and will do everything within his power to put across his economy program which includes: A balanced budget; simplification of state finance; elimination of the present state administrative board and the creation of a centralized department of finance; establishment of a new state corrections commission to take over supervision of prisons; elimination of the state sales tax of 3 per cent on foodstuffs; and reorganization of the state welfare department.

Priority Measures

The foregoing constitutes the White House priority list in legislation. There is opposition of some sort to every item in the list.

Other measures that Mr. Roosevelt would like to see passed include the ship-subsidy bill, which was recommended in a special message; amendments to the AAA legislation; and amendments to the Federal Reserve Act to give the government greater power over the reserve system.

A veto awaits the soldiers' bonus bill, as for the Wagner labor disputes bill and the 30 hour bill, the administration is preserving silence.

customers will be 5½ cents for the first 30 kwh, five cents for the next 40, three cents for the next 50 and two cents for the excess of 120. The immediate rate for suburban customers will be 7½ cents for the first 30 kwh, five cents for the next 30, three cents for the next 60, and two cents for the excess of 120.

The objective rate applicable to both urban and suburban areas will be five cents for the first 20 kwh, four cents for the next 30, 3¼ cents for the next 50, 2½ cents for the next 100 and 1½ cents for the excess of 200. This rate will apply to any customer after his free electricity has been used.

Commercial Rates

There are two rates available for commercial service. One a straight 5 cent per kwh rate, the other a block rate stated as follows:

6 cents per kwh for the first 30 hours use per month of active load.

5 cents per kwh for the next 60 hours use per month of active load.

3 cents net, per kwh for the next 90 hours use of active load, and

2 cents net, per kwh, for all in excess of the first three blocks.

These two commercial rates are applicable in the entire area either urban or suburban.

A change is made in the secondary power rate, available for any secondary power customer in the entire area served by the company, which is stated as follows:

5½ cents net, for the first 30 hours use per month of the connected load in kw.

4½ cents net, per kwh, for the next 90 hours use per month of the connected load in kw.

3 cents net per kwh for all over 120 hours use per month.

Rural Electrification Aid

In addition to the above reductions, the company has taken a step toward the ultimate solution of the rural electrification problem, by filing a revised special waiver of guarantee clause stated as follows: "In addition to the standard clause, and for the purpose of effecting a yearly reduction in the monthly minimum guarantee established under the provision of general order No. 28, the customer's monthly guarantee of revenue shall be reduced 20 percent on March first next following the expiration of the initial contract period of three years, and on the following March first by 15 percent, and on each succeeding March first thereafter by 10 percent until the minimum monthly guarantee required, is reduced to the stated minimum in the applicable schedule. Providing however, that the total minimum per mile of line shall not be less than $12.00, and provided further that where individual transformer installation shall be required to serve the customer, the minimum monthly guarantee shall not be reduced by the application of the above waiver clause below $2.50 per month for any such individual connected customer." Approximately 95 percent of the company's rural customers served under the provision of general order No. 28, and whose initial contract term has expired will be benefited by the introduction of the above waiver clause.

Application of this rule will be based on the original cost of the line and apportionment of the full required guarantee for the line among customers now being served.

Statement By Round

In connection with the new rate schedule filed at Harrisburg, L. B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power company issued the following statement:

"Our obligation as a public utility company requires that we render the best possible service at the lowest possible cost, bearing in mind the interests not merely of our customers, but of our employees and investors as well.

In keeping with that obligation the Pennsylvania Power company has, during the depression period, maintained its facilities in condition to give adequate service at all times. In addition, the company has, in spite of a large decrease in sales, made reductions each year in its rates which, including the reduction announced today, are now resulting in savings to its customers of almost a half million dollars per year.

"The reductions now being made, in the face of possible large tax increases and rising costs of materials, reflects our confidence in the ability and desire of our customers to use this saving by utilizing to a greater extent the many electricity consuming devices available today. The "free electricity" plan embodied in our rate reduction makes such increased use particularly advantageous.

"While the residential customer receives the major portion of this reduction, new tariffs have also been filed for small power service and retail commercial service. The rural customer benefits thru a change in the agricultural service rate and a revision of the rural extension rule which provides for successive reductions in the minimum monthly guarantee. These changes apply to the entire territory served by the company, and with one or two exceptions, the rates for the various classes of service are now uniform thruout the territory."

sive armament if a single power starts intensixe armament."

It was believed Hitler pointed out to Sir John that Germany's projected naval rearmament was a matter of years rather than days or weeks.

Military Equality Demand

Berlin, March 26—Military equality with the rest of Europe and disarmament only if all other nations disarm.

This was the formal notification served upon foreign secretary Sir Jonh Simon of Great Britain by Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany late today as the monmentous Anglo-German "exploratory" negotiations ended after two days of discussion.

It was, in effect, a reaffirmation of the Nazi equality platform which Hitler has demanded since his rise to power.

Thus, according to a usually reliable informant, Hitler stood rockbound on an "eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" basis, and made clear he will not budge an inch on Germany's present armaments status unless the other nations of Europe meet him half-way.

This is the message, these same informants declared, which Sir John will take to Stresa, Italy, on April 11 when he is to meet with the representatives of France and Italy for a second tri-partite parley before the league of nations council assembles on France's demand to "try" the Reich for alleged violation of the Versailles treaty.

Presents German Requirements

Berlin, March 26—Germany's Military requirements on land and sea and in the air were laid before foreign secretary Sir John Simon of Britain today as he and Chancellor Adolf Hitler continued their "explorations' for an avenue of peace in strife-torn Europe.

This data and Hitler's viewpoint toward the proposed eastern Locarno and Danubian pacts were discussed in detail as the formidable parade of tangled European problems marched through the conference room.

The French steamroller meanwhile pushed forward, particularly with regard to the Danubian pact, which would enable France to hold firm to Italy, and in turn oblige the Italians to remain friendly to Yugoslavia. This would check Yugoslavia's tendency to lean toward Germany.

Hitler continued to base his conversation on the grounds that any future agreement must follow unequivocal recognition by the various powers of Germany's equality.

While the Chancellor remains opposed to the eastern Locarno agreement if Soviet Russia is a party, he balked at the Danubian pact on the grounds a treaty of this sort would legalize future French interference in central Europe.

Simon On Middle Road

Sir John continued to stick to the middle road, not committing himself either to the French or German viewpoints. The general atmosphere at noon was "encouraging, so far as can be expected under the circumstances."

A high German authority stated to this correspondent that for the past 24 hours terrific French pressure has been brought upon Sir John through Sub Rosa diplomatic channels to induce Sir John to demand an equivocal yes or no from Hitler on the proposed pacts.

Chief attention of both sides, however, was apparently focussed on German air and sea armament.

Hitler has contended throughout that a standing army of 36 divisions as provided for in his conscription degree represents the minimum defense needs of the Reich.

Regarding air and sea armaments, Germany hopes for a triangular limitation agreement to protect the mutual securities of Britian, France and Germany. Hitler continues to maintain he needs a fleet strong enough to guard the Baltics against Soviet marine invasion, but it was emphasized the present conversations can produce little more than a ground work, with actual undertakings left for the future.

The conferees adjourned for luncheon at 12:30 p. m.

month which the federal administrator fixed as a "fair" share for the state.

"We are not going to continue to hold the bag" Hopkins said, explaining the FERA had given Pennsylvania $48,000,000 since Governor Earle took office to carry the state's entire relief load. "We've done it this long merely to give the legislature time to formulate a program and act upon it," he added. "April 15 is the deadline."

Governor Earle expressed confidence the legislature will pass his tax program which includes emergency taxes designed to raise immediate revenue.

Hopkins said a majority of the more than 1,700,000 persons now virtually all on direct relief in Pennsylvania will be transferred to work relief when the president's $4,000,000,000 program gets underway in this state. Pennsylvania, however, will be expected to continue supplying $5,000,000 a month as its share of relief costs, he explained.

lief. They will see that it is efficiently administered," he explained.

This brought the revelation to International News Service from responsible administration sources that Governor Earle will counter with new taxes not yet proposed if his measures now before the senate are defeated. Denial that this substitute program contained a sales tax came with the statement that any Republican effort to push through such an impost would be resisted by the Democratic house majority to the limit.

Must Act By April 15

The first touchoff of the sudden swing toward a climax came from Democratic floor leader Warren Roberts, Northampton. He read a report of telephone conversation with Governor Earle who had been told by Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins that the federal government intended to stop relief paymets to Pennsylvania on April 15 unless the state acted to provide part of the needed revenue.

Governor Earle's budget carries $145,000,000 for relief, $15,000,000 as an emergency allocation for the rest of this biennium and the remainder for the next biennium.

Republicans seized the opportunity to bitterly denounce the "highly paid" relief administration personnel "which has to build up relief rolls to keep their own jobs." Senator G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, expressed the Republican keynote, declaring:

"Instead of the governor sending the senate notices to pass bills, he should enlighten us as to the future. He ought to tell us what he is going to cut down the relief list and take care of only those who have to be taken care of. The time has come to face the problem as it is. If we don't the whole house will fall over and we won't have any state left."

The tax flareup forced postponement of senate action on its light calendar. The only other action was the vote to delay until late today action on the motion of Senator Anthony Cavalcante, Fayette, to discharge the committee on constitutional changes of further consideration of the administration constitutional revision bill. The vote to delay was carried only when Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy broke a 23-23 tie. It was the first time the lieutenant governor had voted in Pennsylvania for more than 15 years.

A small quantity of left-over pie crust may be rolled thin, cut into squares, sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon, and baked until crisp. These pastries are very good served with lemon sauce for dessert.

MRS. CRAWFORD IS NEW WORTHY MATRON

At beautifully impressive ceremonies held by New Castle chapter, 105, O. E. S., Monday evening, in the East lodge room, of the Cathedral, Mrs. Grace W. Crawford was installed as worthy matron of the chapter, and Henry Jackson, worthy patron for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Marguerite Geary presided as installing office:, Mrs. Minnie Blaha, as installing marshall, and Mrs. Lona Gray, installing chaplain. Guests numbering around 300 witnessed the ceremony, many of these being members of other chapters in Greenville, Butler, Evans City and Ellwood City.

After being inducted into office, Mrs. Crawford addressed the assembly with an original poem. In connection with her assuming office, it is of further intrest to note that the gavel which she will use is fashioned of wood from a tree, planted a long, long time ago by her father, the late Rev. J. C. Womer, when he was a lad. Lovely gifts of flowers were tendered the new worthy matron and the retiring matron, Miss Bessie Durant, who now becomes Junior Past matron.

Previous to the installation ceremonies, the guests were served an elegant banquet in the large dining room downstairs. Spring flowers were used in profusion in decorations, attrative bouquets being on each of the long tables around which covers were marked for 200. This feature was in charge of Miss Durant, who also presided as worthy matron at sessions which were held at 3 o'clock when several new members were initiated.

VISITING ARTISTS GIVE FINE PROGRAM

An enthusiastic audience of capacity size, greeted the artists from the Monday Musical club of Youngstown, Monday evening, when they appeared in a well arranged program before the Music club of this city, in Highland U. P. church.

Isabel Linberger, contralto, was well received in a group of songs by Handel, Schubert, Becker and Dunn. Tenor solos by Woodforde Finden, Quilter, Russell and Geehl were sung with fervor and sincerity by Joseph Guttridge. These were followed by three numbers for flute solo, played by Harry Baugh. A tone of surprising purity, and a rapid and unencumbered technic distinguished his performance. Mr. Baugh is young in years, but he shows promise of attaining high rank among artists of long standing.

Mae Milner, soprano, sang to particular advantage, a group of four American songs by Ware, Ganz, Curran and Woodman. Her interpretations showed fine understanding, and her diction was exceptionally clear. The program was concluded with Saint Saens' Rhapsodie d'Anvergne for two pianos which was played with spirit and assurance by Sophia Lockshin and Elva Myerovich. Well proportioned accompaniments which provided fine support were played by Lillian Hailstone, Mrs. Frank B. Horn and Paul Curran.

Mrs. D. Duff Scott and Mrs. E. F. Henderson were hostesses for the attractive program and presided at the tea table during the delightfully informal reception and social period afterwards, in the social room. Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of this part of the evening's entertainment and she was assisted by several club members, including the ushers for last evening, Misses Kathryn Newberry, Kathryn Lewis, Mrs. C. F. Flannery and Mrs. Burr Rogers.

The tea table was laid with an exquisite lace cloth and adorned with a beautiful center floral arrangement of lavender stock, in combination with yellow calendulas and greenery. Tall yellow and lavender tapers in silver holders were on either side.

Music lovers throughout the city are interested in an announcement made last night concerning the recital which will be given on Tuesday evening, April 2, by Edwin Lewis, one of the city's well known musicians. The concert which will be open to the public and for which no charge will be made, will be held in the First Methodist church. Mr. Lewis will present a program of original works for the organ by Garth Edmundson, New Castle composer.

At the next Music club meeting to be held on April 29, a program of United States contemporary composers will be heard, with Miss Maude Mitchell hostess.

Honored At Cleveland

Of special interest to friends of Miss Edythe Levine, 207½ Park avenue, is the party which was held in the Lotus Gardens at Cleveland, O., Sunday evening in honor of her birthday anniversary, which proved a complete surprise. Miss Lillian Rosenberg of East Reynolds street, was the only other local guest who attended this elaborate affair, which was in the form of a dinner-dance.

Al Schwartz and Hilda Haumer of Cleveland, O., were in charge of the arrangements, which interested a number of young couples.

INTERESTING MEETING CURRENT EVENTS '06

Much merriment was occasioned at Monday afternoon's meeting of Current Events '06 with Mrs. L. F. Reeher, of County Line street when the members told of obsolete articles of clothing, in response to roll call.

The attendance was good, and at the business meeting, over which Mrs. John Ingham presided as president, reports were heard from the meeting of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs, which was held last Tuesday, in Epworth M. E. church. Other reports of standing committees were of further interest. A nominating committee was named: Mrs. George McClelland, Mrs. Clyde Saunders and Mrs. J. R. Lutton, and they will prepare a slate for the annual election which will take place next time. Current events were interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Ida Robinson, of North Walnut street, will be hostess for the April 8 meeting.

EASTER PARTY FOR HIGH SCORE CLUB

Easter decorations, suggestive of the new season, marked the party Monday evening, at which Mrs. George Wendt, of Wilmington avenue, entertained the Hi-Score club as something different and novel.

The hours were delightfully spent playing the customary game of 500, with the trophies falling to Miss Mildred Howard, Mrs. John Louden and Mrs. Glenn Dygart, the latter with Mrs. Roy Tieche, being club guests. Luncheon was delicious, the Easter tones being developed in details.

The exact evening for the next meeting is uncertain but it will be in about two weeks at the home of Miss Mildred Howard, of Fairmont avenue.

MUSICALE FEATURE OF CURRENT CLUB '23 MEET

Mrs. M. R. Newberry, Garfield avenue, was hostess Monday afternoon to the Current Events '23 club members, at a delightful musical program, an outstanding feature of the month. Roll call was responded with "Favorite Music."

With the hostess presiding, Mrs. W. H. Shipler gave a story of the opera "Lucia Di Lammermoor" and Miss Kathryn Newberry played the "Sextette" from Lucia. Mrs. Harry Marshall, Jr., sang two selections, "Sonny Boy" and "Two Maidens" with Miss Kirkpatrick, accompanist. Mrs. Grant Fisher gave an original poem, and data of musical instruments called "Pioneers" with Miss Newberry singing two songs as the next feature, "House on Top of the Hill" and "A Bird Note Is Calling." Miss Kathryn Lewis played her accompaniment.

Miss Dorothy Baldwin, talented violinist, gave a selection with Miss Jane Bryan accompanying, entitled "Good Bye." Miss Lewis accompanied Miss Newberry who sang beautifully, "Sweet Phyllis," by Strickland, and a Mexican folk song entitled "Little Star." Mrs. Grant Fisher gave two musical readings, which she composed to the tune of Schubert's "Hark, Hark, the Lark." Also, she gave another original composition, "Blossom Springing," with the musical setting being arranged by her husband, the Rev. Grant Fisher.

The concluding attractions, violin solo by Miss Baldwin, taken from "Undine" with Miss Bryan accompanist, and Mrs. Marshall, Jr., accompanied by Miss Kirkpatrick, sang two numbers, including "Coming Home." The entire afternoon was unusually interesting, and each participant was enthusiastically received.

On April 8, Mrs. C. J. Baker of South Mill street, will receive the women for their regular meeting.

Miss Bernine Hostess

Re Delta Deck members will enjoy a decided innovation in their usual meeting planned for Thursday evening, when Miss Evelyn Bernine will take her guests to the style show and entertainment planned by the B. PATRIOTIC MEMORIAL HIGHWAY PROPOSED

CONGRESSMAN HAINES' bill for a memorial highway linking three national shrines, Mount Vernon, the Lincoln Memorial in Washington and the Gettysburg battlefield,, has been approved by the house road subcommittee, and should have a fair prospect of passage. The proposed boulevard would be about seventy-five miles long and would cost between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

In normal times the question of the cost of such a project would be considered an obstacle to its passage, but in these days, when money is being handed out so lavishly for emergency purposes, that argument can hardly be convincing.

It would come under the head of constructive expenditures and would furnish employment to many idle men. One of the arguments in its favor is that it would be a continuation of the existing highway between Mount Vernon and the city of Washington.

That it would be welcomed in Pennsylvania is not to be doubted. The taxpayers of this state are paying their full share—and more—for many dubious experiments, and there is no good reason why they should not benefit by some improvements of a permanent nature.

BRITAIN AS PACIFIER

Among recently reported discoveries is the needless suffering from toothache for hundreds of years because medical science did not know there were such things as nerves. There has been a good deal of other suffering due to these sensitive fibers. Dr. Butler returns from Europe to say: "The trouble with the world today is nerves." He thinks the "crying need now is for a highly skilled political psychotherapist."

That is the role Great Britain is playing in Europe over the German business. It has kept its head too well to please some of the Continental powers, particularly France, which grabs its aching tooth and howls for relief. Britain's temperate, conciliatory note to Germany is denounced in France as "weak" and "ineffective." The fire eaters resent Britain's taking the lead in such a placating way. But there are signs that they are beginning to get control of their nerves and let Britain speak for France and Italy as well as herself.

Sir John Simon's mission to Berlin was made more difficult by the divergence of opinion behind him. He must satisfy the hot heads and cool heads at home, in France, in Italy and in Russia. It is not certain that Hitler's job is any easier for he, too, has conflicting groups of advisers to march between. The old cocks-of-the-walk don't want to make any commitments that would hamper Germany in following its own devices. The more reasonable and more internationally minded would return to Geneva and the family of nations.

The choice for all concerned is the choice they have had ever since the war. Europe's best bet is to encourage the liberal, reasonable groups. Allied diplomacy missed its opportunity when it didn't follow up the gains made by Briand and Stresemann. It may miss its opportunity again, if the vengeful tom-cats are allowed to take control. Not that this would spell war immediately but it would create a greater nervous tension that would mean aches and pains for everybody.

RESULT OF A NEW LAW

More than 8,000 drivers have been affected by the state financial responsibility law which went into effect fourteen months ago, according to W. W. Matthews, director of the division of safety.

This is the law that requires drivers involved in accidents to take out liability insurance or file cash bond if any judgment against them remains unpaid 13 days, or if they are in two accidents in which damage exceeds $200. If they do not meet the requirements their licenses cannot be renewed.

The law, though it may be viewed as drastic by some drivers, provides one of the best safeguards for motorists ever devised. Prior to its enactment there were many instances in which drivers responsible for accidents merely laughed when damages were demanded. One of the customary retorts was: "I haven't got anything. What are you going to do about it?" There was no answer. The innocent person whose car was damaged did his best to overcome his anger, and paid the repairman's bill. The new law changed the situation. Those who believe the measure is too stern should recall that motorists themselves made its passage necessary.

OLD-FASHIONED

From a source which is surprising comes a vigorous espousal of old-fashioned institutions and virtues. The oracle is none other than Judge Ben Lindsay, divorce court jurist and advanced thinker in the field of domestic relations.

Out of the depths of his wisdom and a wealth of experience, Judge Lindsay emerges with the conclusion that the forces of this new day, dislocating religion's balance-staff and education's brakes, have permitted the vast motors of human nature to run free, driving close to social catastrophe.

For the remedy, Judge Lindsay insists, we must look to real home life, to education, to religion and to good old-fashioned marriage until death do us part.

This is a strange doctrine to come from the lips of one who has been regarded generally as an apostle of freedom. Also, it is refreshing in its wholesomeness.

It's about time, we suppose, to get the lawn mower sharpened for the neighbors to use.

REALISTIC PHILOSOPHY

Gullible souls who drink in avidly the irresponsible utterances of demagogues and who accept their unrestrained promises as something of a sacred nature, certain of fulfilment, will gather disillusionment and also enlightenment from the words of Lenin.

Chided on one occasion by reason of his failure to keep promises through which he had stirred the mobs to revolution, the patron saint of the proletariat responded with cynicism which he never took great pains to conceal:

"People who imagine that promises made at the time of revolution are made to be kept do not know how revolutions are made." And the great ideal of freedom, from the viewpoint of the old incendiary, was nothing but a "bourgeois fetish."

Those who are charmed by the siren songs of Huey Long and other visionaries will probably find some day that the principles of deception that govern social revolutions are fundamentally the same as those that control the more fantastic of the proposed economic upheavals.

CIRCUMSTANCES MAKE THE MAN

Occupying an important post, you are well-pleased with yourself.

You give yourself all credit for getting the job.

But can you say honestly that your good fortune is not due to some fortunate break, a certain turn of affairs that threw the position in your way and made it easy to get?

Can you say, without qualification, that what you have gained is entirely through your own efforts?

You may be able to say, truly, that while you had some help to get the job, you are still holding it, and that proves your worth.

But you can call to mind certain others who might have held it as well as you if they could have gotten it.

Fate was not so kind to them, so they have inferior positions.

Many men in big jobs acknowledge that fortunate circumstances put them there.

Some others would not make such an admission.

Well, the bigger the man, the more he realizes his good fortune in getting and keeping what many men of equal ability have been denied.

Thousands of men in small jobs might have done as well as you if they had had your opportunities.

When the case was called in criminal court, the judge discovered the defendant charged with a misdemeanor was on hand but had no lawyer. As was his duty, the judge appointed an attorney to defend the accused. It happened the appointee was an ambitious young fellow just graduated from law school.

"Just go into that back room there," the judge told the young lawyer, "and give him the best advice you can." Presently the judge came in and there sat the young lawyer alone.

"Where's your client?" asked the judge.

"Your honor," replied the young lawyer, "you said to give him the best advice I knew and after listening to his story, I thought the best thing he could do was to jump out the window and get as far away as he could.

Let no one ask, "Where did I hear that yarn before?"

Weekly Health Talks

"In spite of the fine record that has been made against tuberculosis, the fact remains that it is yet the chief cause of death during the adolescent period. This represents a definite challenge to public health officials, teachers and parents alike. Indeed, it is vital to discover why so many older children succumb to this disease. Such information will go a long way properly to safeguard the children's health during the growing years," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, state secretary of health.

"Of the numerous causes responsible for so many adolescent deaths unquestionably fatigue tops the list. Much of this condition in recent years is the direct result of the many activities associated with school life. Numerous interests not related to books are now available that actually were unheard of a generation ago. And most of them are of real cultural value.

"However, it is not hard to appreciate that a child who, for example, belongs to the school band, the orchestra, the literary society, an athletic team, and also takes part in various clubs and social functions, becomes chronically tired before his day is spent. Such exactions really make it next to impossible for him to find time for relaxation and to obtain the essential nine-hour sleep.

"Unfortunate as such a situation may be for some children, fatigue has its easiest approach through sports. The competitive nature of the interscholastic game such as football, baseball and basketball, demands long hours of practice and wearing exertion. And while it is true that most pupils appear to stand these exhausting sports without any damaging effect, the child who has been infected by the tuberculosis germ rarely is so fortunate.

"Therefore, it perhaps would be an excellent routine for every athletic team candidate to be required to show the absence of such an infection by way of a negative Mantoux test. In addition, the physical examination should determine beyond question that no organic heart disease exists.

"Were these two requirements generally applied, sports would then be engaged in by those capable of sustaining them without danger to life or health. Undoubtedly without this knowledge a number of children are playing beyond their strength. And, as indicated, fatigue may be an important factor in the development of tuberculosis and resulting early death

"Thus it cannot be too forcefully emphasized that extra curricular activities, and especially the scholastic sports, should be limited to the well, non-infected child. Many lives thus will be saved for future usefulness and the tuberculosis death rate noticeably reduced as well."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:17. Sun rises tomorrow 5:53.

New Castle needs to be reminded of the enterprising little hen that wandered from the poultry yard to see the world. Miles away from her home she spied a goose egg, which she laboriously shoved with her beak all the long, long way home. When she had achieved her ambition and the other chickens gathered around her, one declared: "You don't want us to believe that you laid that egg."

To which Biddy replied: "No, indeed, but I just wanted to show you what they are doing in other communities."

Too much of our uplifting, principally among the women, is done with their noses instead of their purses.

Huey's idea isn't new. The busy bees gather honey and man comes along and divides their wealth.

Hundreds of New Castle people have been interested recently in the dust clouds that have been flying over the city, with a little of it sifting down. It's a part of the big dust storms they've been having out West. First thing we knew we'll be getting a bill from those westerners for top soil.

New War With Japan. Beneath The Surface. More Drouth Predicted.

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—There is a war on with Japan now. It is a war that probably is more devastating than an actual "local" conflict in the Far East.

Great Britain and the United States are blaming Japan. And Japan is blaming the British and the Americans.

Japan Is seizing the textile trade. Lower wages, lower standard of living? Yes. But there is more to it than that.

Great Britain probably has not kept pace with technological development. And prices of raw cotton have been too high for the British.

Japan seems to have sensed where inexpensive cotton may be obtained.

In the United States the situation is far more complicated. A processing tax is assessed against textile manufacturers to maintain a pegged price for cotton. That simply is handing markets to Japan.

But Japan comes back at the Americans and the British with an accusation that they are impoverishing the best markets Japan has—chiefly, China. The United States, with its silver buying policy, has been draining China of its currency backing. And both Great Britain and the United States have devalued their currencies, forcing cheaper trade price and sharper trade practices.

Down go all currencies in sympathy—and each monetary unit buys less and wages either rise to meet that or (as in Japan) do not rise and living standards drop.

If Japanese workers have lower living standards, Japan blames it on the United States and Great Britain.

They, in turn, begin to demand that their own workers live on less, "so business can go ahead".

And if Japan takes over British and American textile trade, it asks: "What else can we do, to make ends meet, since the currency war you began impoverishes our normal markets?"

It is a dizzy dance of death.

The solution can come only with a world agreement to stabilize currencies, exchanges, tariffs.

BENEATH THE SURFACE

Beneath the surface of European war maneuvers is the desire of each government to cover up failure to effect any economic recovery.

Living standards are declining throughout the world.

THE DROUTH QUESTION

Is last year's drouth area due for another dry year? The spring dust storms seem to hint that.

Herbert Janvrin Browne, long-distance weather forecaster, answers the question in this manner:

"Those states which, designed by nature to be mainly grazing land, have had their surfaces pulverized by crop cultivation, and their primitive little lakes and marshes drained out of existence, are doomed to an indefinite number of dry years."

The official weather bureau scoffs at Browne's predictions, of whole seasons in advance, but big corporations continue to pay stiff rates for them—good evidence that they think they are getting their money's worth. Moreover, it is undeniable that he prophesied the 1934 drouth, as well as more of it in 1935—and here it is, as per prophesy, at least thus far on into the year.

CLIMATE CHANGED

"The fact is," continued Browne, "that the climate of a broad strip east of the Rockies has been changed.

"The territory from the Atlantic to the thirteenth degree of longitude or thereabouts, has its moisture supply swept inland, overhead, from the ocean or the Gulf of Mexico.

"There is no such inland sweep from the Pacific, however; clouds from that direction discharge their load on the western slope of the mountains.

"The intervening belt is dependent in considerable part upon local evaporation, to prime the atmosphere. And, with the disappearance of this region's lakes and swamps, there no longer is a source of supply for the sun to draw upon.

"It never was a region of abundant rainfall, but its supply was sufficient for a substantial turf, to hold the soil down and to feed meat animals.

"But now, dried up by drainage and loosened by the plow, the entire surface of the landscape, in a country of high winds, simply is blowing away, clear to hard-pan. Much of it already has blown away, or is eroded away when rain does fall."

Mar. 26, 1812—The biggest earthquake in American history ceased, simultaneously with an earthquake which destroyed the city of Caracas, Venezuela.

Epicenter of the shocks was near New Madrid, Mo. For 300 miles southward from the mouth of the Ohio river the ground rose and sank in great undulations, and lakes were formed and again drained. The shocks were accompanied by loud explosions, great fissures—sometimes more than a mile in length—were opened in the earth, and from these openings mud and water were thrown high in the air like eruptions from a volcano. Islands in the Mississippi river were sunk, the current of the river was driven back by the rising of its bed, and water went surging over wide areas like a flood.

City Forester Writes Of Winter's Passing

The snow has gone, its waters have washed away the winter from Mother Earth, cleaning it in preparation for the new season. The release of the earth from the cold each year is as old as time but carries with it a beauty always new, spring brings sweet winds that stir the pussywillows where birds will build their nests, writes Owen Fox, city forester.

The ever warming sun of spring soon causes the sap to push open the buds of the red maples, and from the marshes as well as from your gardens come come the first call of the songsparrows.

The drumming of the woodpeckers can be heard clear, and the pleasing song of the low flying bluebird comes with the first days of spring.

Spring dispels the dark clouds above and we see a brighter blue, where soon will be the playground of the swallows. The sturdy oak tree, slow in coming to life, is the hunting ground of the nuthatch where he hunts the first insects, which make their appearance in the groved bark.

The first warm days of spring bring the grossbeaks which travel in groups of from 40 to 50, stopping off in the wooded sections for a time on their way to nesting places. The pipings of the cardinals are increasing as the days get warmer, chickadees are in tune as they sit on a branch of a birch tree, whose reddening buds will soon unfold a bright green leaf in the April sun.

The coming of a new season unfurls the workings of nature at its best. The pentup feeling that has surrounded one during the winter months seems to respond with a new life at the newness and beauty of the awakening outdoors. The same feeling of spring enters into the wild creatures of nature they too let the world know that they rejoice in the new season. Songbirds flaunt their gorgeous colored feathers in flight, four-footed creatures scurry about the woods with a quicker zest.

It is at springtime that the wild flowers reign supreme. The fresh soil bedecks itself with such flowers as the wild hyacinth with its blue colored blooms, the wild azalea are growing fragrant in rosy masses in the woods, running a race with the spice bushes lemon yellow blooms, which extend a welcome to the bees who have been aroused by the warming sun from their winter's sleep.

The warm sun lightens up the bloodroot blooms of the brookline which are to be found along the brooksides, and the dainty quaker bonnets lift their faces to the stirring winds and nod at the passing birds that sing winter is gone and spring is here, let there be rejoicing among all living creatures.

RABBI SHWARTZ INSTALLED AS SHALOM LEADER

Brilliant Installation Dinner Given By Congregation In New Rabbi's Honor

In honor of their new spiritual leader, Rabbi H. Leon Shwartz, members and friends of the congregation Beth Shalom of New Castle, gathered together Sunday evening at the Cosmo club at one of the most festive and brilliant dinners of the year. Amidst charming settings and lovely music, Rabbi Shwartz was formally installed as the new leader of Congregation Beth Shalom by its officers and Rabbi Rudolph Rosenthal of the Temple on the Heights, Cleveland, O.

The dinner ceremonies were opened by appropriate greetings by Mrs. Samuel Edelstein, the president of the Sisterhood. This was followed by an invocation offered by Rabbi M. Schiffman of Tifereth Israel congregation of New Castle. After the dinner Louis Kohn, president of the congregation, extended greetings and introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Rabbi Rudolph Rosenthal, well known as a brilliant speaker and as a leader in American Jewry.

In an eloquent and inspirational address he stressed the various and important problems facing the American Jew today, with the especial need of unity and cooperation within the folds of American Jewry. He concluded his address with the charge to the congregation and its rabbi to lend their efforts toward a spiritual rehabilitation of the Jewish community.

The addresses of the evening were closed by a response given by Rabbi Shwartz. Throughout the dinner lovely music was rendered by the young artists, Frank Taylor, pianist and Tom Connor, trombonist, who recently won first honors in music contests sponsored by the New Castle high schools, while Andrew De Lorenzo accompanied by Miss Dorothy Fisher, presented an interesting group of vocal numbers which were well received by the dinner guests. The dinner closed with a number of group songs, especially written by Miss Anne Shiffman, for the occasion.

Rabbi Shwartz, the newly installed leader of Congregation Beth Shalom, is a graduate of Ohio State University, where he won honors as a student and a speaker, and later attended the Jewish Institute of Religion of New York City. He has been associated as assistant to Rabbi I. E. Philo of Rodeph Shalom Temple of Youngstown, O., as well as with the Mt. Neboh Synagogue of New York City. He was also the rabbi at the School for the Improvement of the Deaf of New York City.

Fifty-two instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office during the past week. In the list were 21 deeds and six mortgages. In the list of mortgages were three to the Home Owners Loan Corportion totaling $6,726.

By changes made in the county treasurer's office by Bert Dinsmore, County treasurer, William O. Pitts, now has more room. As the counters were arranged there was a passageway leading to the entrance behind them. This has been closed and the counters extended straight across. This adds about thirty square feet of floor space back of the counters.

Alderman O. H. P. Green has his new office divided into three rooms, a front office, court room and library. In the library, the alderman has all the books containing state laws as far back as 1858. Several big bouquets which adorn his desk, were the gifts of admiring friends. The walls of his court room are adorned with pictures of birds, animals and fishes. Green has always taken an active interest in the sportsmens' association.

A charter has been granted to the National Pants' Factory Association, an organization composed of employees at the pants factory east of town. One of the features of the association will be the payment of sick benefits to those who may be incapacitated through illness. Incorporators are John Urba, Harry Frank, Val Gumienny, Joseph Mooney, and Thomas Dunkerly. Officers will be elected at a meeting to be held soon.

In the case of H. A. Walters and J. A. Williams, trading as the Broad street garage against Fred E. Spect, a motion for judgement for want of an answer has been presented at court. A rule to show cause why the petition should not be granted was made returnable on April 8th.

The People's Savings and Trust Company presented its resignation to court as guardian for Henry, Eugenius and Balestona Sneizek. The resignation showed that accounts have been filed in each case. Miss Claire Duff, connected with the trust company was appointed guardian.

An appeal from the decision of Justice of the Peace C. L. Zedaker of New Bedford has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of S. J. Neal against E Gosell. The suit was one involving a bill for hay furnished by plaintiff to defendant. Judgement for $62.80 was awarded by the justice.

Why at 40 You Think You're "Growing Old"

At about 40, many people think they're "growing old." They're tired a lot. Have headaches more often. And they're subject to stomach upsets — nausea. Talk of "nerves."

Well, scientists say the cause, in a great many cases, is merely this: a tendency to an acid condition of the stomach. Likely the result of faulty diet.

The thing to do is simply to neutralize excess stomach acids.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, all you do is take a little Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. Soon you feel like another person.

Signs Which Often Indicate "Acid Stomach"
ACID INDIGESTION
AUTO INTOXICATION
NAUSEA
LOSS OF APPETITE
FREQUENT HEADACHES
SLEEPLESSNESS
MOUTH ACIDITY

What To Do For It

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water in the morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

Stomach calm. Fewer headaches. And the pep and energy you thought lost, comes back again!

Try this. Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS'", or, the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets — convenient to take with you anywhere.

Also in Tablet Form: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Unethical Legal Practice Hit By Drafted Measure

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26—"Ambulance chasers" and attorneys who employ them today became targets of a bill drafted by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to wipe out unethical legal practices.

The bill was designed to abolish such practices as have been charged against attorneys now being investigated by the bench and bar in Philadelphia.

Two other bills drafted by the attorney general and aimed at reforms in the practice of law also were introduced. One, would permit institution of damage suits for death or personal injuries although releases had been previously executed. The other was intended to prevent corporations from encroaching on the private practice of law.

The bill aimed at unscrupulous practices known in legal parlance as barratry would prohibit groundless judicial proceedings, solicitation of lawsuits, prosecution of a suit by an attorney whose services were retained as the result of solicitation, and institution of suits by attorneys without prior authority to do so.

The bill would prevent attorneys from soliciting business from persons awaiting hearing or trial unless they had been previously summoned and would further prevent lawyers from soliciting cases through police officers and making agreements with police to receive advance information of arrests. Other provisions would prohibit advertising of legal services to obtain divorces or annulments.

"I NEVER KNEW A REFRIGERATOR COULD BE SO Complete

Now 2 to 4 Times as Many Features in the New Leonard

Shrewd buyers who make it a point to get the most for their money are choosing the Leonard these days. They find that no other refrigerator gives them all that the new Leonard does.

Here is a refrigerator that is complete in every sense of the word. In style features. In convenience features. In mechanical features.

Take a look at a Leonard cabinet, for instance. Notice how graceful and well-proportioned it is. And if you examine it closely you'll see that it is just as strong, just as sturdy as it is beautiful and roomy.

And when it comes to convenience features . . . well, Leonard is way ahead! With the LEN-A-DOR, famous door-opening pedal. The automatic interior light. The folding and sliding shelves. The Convenience Basket for dairy products and left-overs. The Cold Chest for subfreezing storage. And many others that mean much in convenience and economy.

Now if all these things meant that you'd have to pay a lot more for the Leonard, you might be justified in hesitating. But Leonard is actually priced right down with the lowest. And don't forget that Leonard is one of the oldest names in refrigeration, backed by a 54 year old reputation for quality and dependability. So before you buy any refrigerator, come in and see the new Leonard.

ACCEPTED by Science and the American People

Laboratories have devoted years of research to discover the facts about bran. These tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural laxative food for normal people.

As a result, ALL-BRAN has been accepted by the American Medical Association Committee on Foods, and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Millions of Americans use ALL-BRAN to correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. For ALL-BRAN supplies generous, mild "bulk," which continues to be effective when used for months. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Rotarians, Rural Guests Hear Agricultural Leader At 'Rural Day' Luncheon

"Agriculture, like all industry, is getting its breath right now and in a short time, it'll be ready to go some more," M. S. McDowell, nationally known director of Pennsylvania's notable agricultural extension work, told New Castle's Rotarians and their "Rural Day" guests—57 Lawrence county farmers—at The Castleton on Monday afternoon.

McDowell likened the agricultural industry to a man who had been running and who stopped a short while to rest.

Dinner Annual Affair

The Rotary Club each year plays host to a large number of rural residents from all over Lawrence county and Monday's program, while continuing the yearly tradition, presented to Rotary a chance to reciprocate to the fram group for a banquet tendered the club at Westfield grange a few weeks ago.

Prsiding was President Robert A. Eckles. He called upon Thomas A. Gilkey, member of the club's rural urban committee and close friend of Mr. McDowell to introduce the speaker. Mr. Gilkey called Mr. McDowell "Mick" as in college days at Penn State and Mr. McDowell called Gilkey "Dad."

The Rotarians, before the day's address heard Emanuel Shenkan read a letter to the club from the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children, proposing that Rotary, in conjunction with other clubs here, sponsor a seal sale in behalf of crippled children locally from April 1 to Easter. It is probable the club will conduct the drive.

Shenkan explained that 70 percent of the drive's proceeds will remain in New Castle to promote crippled children's work here, 20 percent would go to the state work and 10 percent to the work nationally.

Agricultural Trends' Topic

Speaking on "Agricultural Trends" a most timely topic, Mr. McDowell, recognized as an agricultural leader throughout the nation, informed the Rotarians that the agricultural extension service as it exists today is "the channel through which is provided information helpful to the farmer." He said federal and state funds maintain it.

Six underlying principles involved in the extension service were listed as these:

First, the people in the rural comniunities have a direct and active part in the program.

Second, there are definite goals being aimed at.

Third, there is a continuous contact with research branches.

Fourth, the method of actual demonstration of new ideas, new plans is followed.

Fifth, the work is done in groups and not with individuals.

Sixth, the program planning represents an effort to solve those problems which the different rural communities feel should be solved.

Estimating Lawrence county's farms at between 2,200 and 2,400, Director McDowell launched into an explanatory account of what he called "'the mechanics of the service." The workings of the service were described.

Science Role Reviewed

Pointing to the role scientific research has played in agriculture as well as in other industrial fields, Mr. McDowell, who for 20 years has guided Pennsylvania's agricultural extension service, asserted that "farmers of 1935 are better than the farmers of 1930, the farmers of '30 better than the '25 farmers and so on." He also made it clear that their livestock and general farm work is better.

"Witn reduced acreage the yield of potatoes per acre has increased" he told the Rotarians after listing a group of specific agricultural improvements in years past. And he added that "the farmers are looking for the day when there will be a big improvement over existing conditions."

Here for the day as guests with the local farm men was County Farm Agent, Fred Reed, of Kingston, W. Va. He was introduced by Lawrence county's farm agent, Harold R McCulloch.

The luncheon program was planned and conducted by Rotary's rural-urban committee, including John Offutt, chairman: Thomas A. Gilkey, and Samuel Huey.

Cigars were passed after the dinner by Dr. L. W. Wilson who observed his birthday on Monday.

At 6 o'clock a dinner which was sponsored by the Sunday School board was served in the dining room, where covers were arranged for fifty, including the old members of the Sunday School and the sons, daughters and grandchildren of the honored couple. The tables were attractively decorated in white and yellow which was also carried out in the menu. Jennings who repeated the marriage vows of fifty years ago, the ring ceremony being used. Rev. Later in the evening friends and neighbors called to extend congratulations and all were served refreshments.

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Mar. 26.—With death in the electric chair in the near future more apparent than ever, John Koziar, confessed slayer of Samson Rosenshein, Masontown jeweler, today sought solace in the Bible.

His attorneys indicated they had little ground for appeal since the defense was restricted very little in the trial. Koziar confessed he had murdered the gem merchant during an attempted burglary. Said Koziar:

"I would like to read the Bible from cover to cover before—it happens."

Koziar said that he "didn't know it was wrong" to break into the Rosenshein home. He said he thought it "was just fun and I got scared."

To Commemorate Saving Of Free Public Schools

No Celebration By School System Here But Rooms Will Hold Events

While there will be no formal celebration by the schools as a system, many of the rooms in the various schools plan to commemorate April 11 this year. Dr. C. C. Green superintendent announced today. The day marks the 100th anniversary of the day Thaddeus Stevens made his famous speech in the Pennsylvania General Assembly which is given credit for saving the free public school system.

The Free Public School law was passed in 1834, and signed on April 1 of that year. In the session of 1885 a bill passed the Senate which repealed the Free Public School Law and the bill came to the House for final passage on Saturday, April 11. The stirring address by Thaddeus Stevens turned the tide against the bill and it was defeated.

A year ago the schools held celebrations commemorating the establishing of the Free Public School Act, and the pageant presented by the New Castle Schools attracted the attention of the Department of Public Instruction.

Johnson Asked For Picture Of Needs Of Relief

Relief Director Also Asked To Furnish Results Of Recent Investigations

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—Preparing to act on Gov. George H. Earle's $203,000,000 tax program, the senate today adopted a resolution requesting State Emergency Relief Director Robert L. Johnson to supply a complete statistical picture of the state's relief situation. A resolution requesting taxation figures from the department of revenue was adopted last week.

Asserting in part "there appear to be grave doubts in the public mind as to the efficiency of methods of distribution now in force," the resolution requested Johnson to furnish the total relief costs since he assumed office, the number of persons on relief, the number employed in relief administration including non-residents and the types of relief furnished.

In addition he was asked to furnish results of his investigations of charges of extravagance and "chiseling" in various counties.

Criminal Has Too Many Legal Devices As Aids

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, Pa. Mar. 26.—There are too many legal devices to aid the criminal.

The convicted criminal does not fear incarceration in the penitentiary. There isn't enough hard work for convicts to do in prison.

Changes are necessary in the state laws.

These were some of the arguments advanced here today of Beaver county's first conference on crime. Among the speakers scheduled were an educator, a judge, a lawyer, policeman, a fire marshal and a boy scout.

Among the exhibits at the conference, held at the high school, were death masks of the three "babes in the wood." Norma, Cordelia and Dewilla Noakes, their father, Elmos and his 19-year-old niece, Winifred Pierce, who met a tragic death near Carlisle, Pa., fingerprint charts, lie detector and firearms taken from prisoners.

District Attorney A. B. De Castrique urged the law be changed so that a prosecutor can question a man even if he does not take the witness stand in court. He also attacked Senator John J. McClure of Delaware county who has been convicted of violating prohibition laws because the legislator did not take the stand in his own defense.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe of Western Penitentiary told of prison conditions and said in the last 11 years no more than one man who had been a boy scout had been sent there to serve.

Speakers at the session this afternoon and tonight included Judge M. A. Musmanno of Pittsburgh; Forest G. Moorhead, head of the Pennsylvania Bar Association; Andrew T. Benson, Executive Allegheny County West, Boy Scouts of America, and William Hoffman of the state bureau of criminal investigation and information.

Pittsburgh Man Will Succeed A. W. Motley, Who Recently Resigned His Post

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—Tensard De Wolf, a former Pittsburgh magistrate, today was named by Secretary of Labor and Industry Edward N. Jones to reorganize the Pennsylvania state employment service. A. W. Motley, former head of the service, resigned last week at Jones' request.

"I have asked Mr. De Wolf to undertake this work not only on account of his long interest in public affairs and broad experience in public service, but for his record of independent and non-partisanship in politics," Jones said.

De Wolf for 15 years was the active head of the Voters' League of Pittsburgh and organizer and chief magistrate of the Morals Court there. During recent years he has been director of the committee for education in citizenship working through the public and parochial schools in Pennsylvania to establish student citizenship organizations.

Restriction On Fireworks Sale Would Be Placed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26—Drastic restrictions on the sale of fireworks of all kinds are imposed in the bill of Senator William B. Rogers, Allegheny, which was before the senate today.

The measure prohibits the sale of fireworks except by persons given permits by local governments. It specifies that fireworks displays can be staged only by local permit.

If passed, the bill would become effective July 1, 1935, thus affecting the major portion of this year's fourth of July trade.

SEEKS TO FORCE ACTION ON NEW CONSTITUTION

Senate To Vote This Afternoon

Move To Bring Proposal To Floor Of Senate To Be Up To Vote

FORSEE DEFEAT OF MOTION BY SENATE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—The senate was scheduled to vote at 4:30 p. m., today on a motion to bring to the floor the administration's constitutional revision bill over the objections of the Republican-controlled constitutional changes committee.

Denied immediate consideration when Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy broke a tie vote by balloting for delay, the motion to discharge was set as special order of business. Democrats, caught unawares by the motion made by Senator Anthony Cavalacante, Fayette, deserted their own member to lay the matter on the table overnight.

Defeat of the motion was freely predicted if it comes to a vote. With one Democrat absent, eight Republicans necessarily must support the motion together with a solid Democratic vote to raise the required 26 votes to discharge the committee. And a solid Democratic vote was not assured.

Attacks Committee

Cavalcante (Cq) accompanied his motion with a vituperative attack on the committee for its failure to report the Ruth bill, which it has considered since January 29 when it came over from the house. He accused Republicans of "putting on a Judas act" by not acting on revision which he said the voters demanded in electing the Democratic administration last November.

Kennedy's vote on the motion of Senator William B. Rodgers, Allegheny, to delay action until today broke a 23-23 tie and marked the first time the lieutenant governor has voted in the Pennsylvania senate since the Brumbaugh administration.

The Ruth Bill provides for a special election May 14 to name delegates to meet in convention June 4 to draft a new constitution. The new document would be submitted to the voters in November of this year. After extensive public hearings, the committee has voted to remove the special election feature, inserting instead provision for a referendum on holding a convention at the September primaries and election of delegates in November.

Gov. George H. Earle last week urged the senate to act expeditiously to provide for constitutional revision but failed to mention specifically his request for the special election procedure, giving rise to authoritative reports he was willing to compromise with the Republicans. He also named a committee of 67 persons to lay the groundwork for the convention's work by studying necessary changes in the existing fundamental law of 1874.

Outdoor Drills Will Be Started

Troop F To Complete Indoor Schedule On Friday Evening

MARCH 29 LAST DATE TO ENLIST

Troop F 103rd Cavalry will turn in the new serge uniforms used in the winter drills at the armory on Friday March 29. This will be the last indoor drill of the season, and all future drills will be held at the Troop Stables on West Washington street extension. The summer uniform will be worn on Friday night when turning in this equipment.

The Armory has been equipped with a new storage room which is moth-proof, thus insuring proper protection for the winter uniforms. Friday, March 29 is the deadline for enlistment before camp. A few vacancies exist and any young men interested must make their applications to Lt. Mitchell not later than this date.

Due to the early date of this year's encampment, and the fact that no recruit school will be held at camp, the enlisted personnel must be enlisted not later than April 1, 1935 to insure 2 months training before camp.

The horses have been shod and are in fine condition for the summer's work.

Stamp Club Has Meeting Monday

The New Castle Stamp Club held its regular meeting last night in the Home Service Department, Pennsylvania Power Company. President Glenn Montgomery conducted a short business session after which the meeting was turned over to the sales manager, Danial Hennon.

Mr. Hennon's program consisted of an auction of stamps that were submitted by the members. Quite an amusing an entertaining time was derived from the auction. Thirty-five choice lots went to the different members who were successful in the bidding. This is the first time that the club had ever tried such a program and the success of the evening was due almost entirely to the wit and humor added to it by the auctioneer.

L. de Ruiter of Youngstown, O., was present at the meeting, and he displayed quite a large number of the new Farley imperfs. The next meeting of the club will be on Monday, April 8. The time and the place to be announced later.

Busy Dictators.
Hitler, Peace Angel.
Kemal Speaks Up.
Women, At Fifty.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DODGE CITY, Kan., Mar. 26.—THIS TRAIN is going through Kansas, with little sign of dust storms that have done so much damage. Colorado in one small region reports dust rising five miles into the air. Farmers suggest that "static electricity in the dust kills the wheat or stops its growing.

EUROPE'S dictators borrow ideas from each other. Mussolini, perhaps unconsciously, copied Rienzi, who ended violently. Hitler saw how well Mussolini's idea worked, and adopted it. Dollfuss tried it in Vienna, ended badly.

Kemal Pasha has made a success of it thus far in Turkey, throwing sultans overboard, Mohammed, the fez, veils for women also. Kemal says:

"If Hitler can defy the league and kick over the Versailles treaty, so can I."

He will fortify the Dardanelles, in spite of the treaty, that created a neutral zone, adjoining the narrow water passage that separates Europe from Asia, at Constantinople.

IN OLD days, Stalin would have had something to say about that. Fortifying the Dardanelles would have meant keeping him and his fleet out of the Mediterranean. It matters little now.

Stalin, who knows that the only real fleet is the air fleet, has the second largest air fleet in the world. If Kemal annoyed him, Stalin could blow up Constantinople, Angora, and the Dardanelles fortifications as well, all comfortably and conveniently from the air.

HITLER, turning with a rapidity that would startle any work, now declares himself guardian angel of Europe, offering to start a world peace guaranteed to last twenty years. That would depend on Japan and Russia.

FRANCE SENDS thirty thousand men closer to the German border, and Mussolini, probably annoyed by imitation dictators forcing themselves into the limelight, announces that he has raised Italy's arm to six hundred and sixty thousand, and will probably increase it to two millions.

Two million soldiers would eat a good deal of food that other Italians would have to supply, and fire off much amunition that would not hit anybody in particular.

If real war came, Mussolini, like others, would rely on his air fleet, rather than send two million men to be gassed from the air.

The next war, if we must have it, will be a bombing, gas-poisoning competition. A few million civilians killed in the first week, which is not improbable, might do more than any amount of talk to bring the twenty years peace.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is "advised by his highest naval and military advisors" that "no immediate war is likely."

That must comfort the President, knowing as he does that this nation is absolutely unprepared for war, with an air force that the British air minister somewhat "top-loftily" but accurately describes as negligible.

THE SENATE, tired out, and, like the rest of the government, anxious to begin the spending, passes the biggest appropriation bill ever passed on earth, four thousand four hundred and eighty million dollars.

The suggestion that four thousand millions be printed in new money to avoid interest charges was rejected indignantly. Bonds will be issued for the four billions and the tax payers, on final settlement plus interest, will pay eight thousand million dollars, instead of four thousand millions that they would pay if the money had been printed. But that would have been "inflation." An amendment to the bill permitting one billion of new "inflation" money will doubtless be eliminated.

Clarence Darrow, able criminal lawyer, earnest and sincere, thinks we ought to have free trade. He would change his mind if Japanese criminal lawyers could imitate Darrow as well as they can imitate our American workmen, come here and defend Leopold and Loeb for $250 instead of the amount paid to Mr. Darrow for saving the lives of the horrible young murderers.

Darrow is more like himself in describing some of our new fangled methods of "distribution" that do not distribute.

"We are paying people not to work, not produce, in order to produce a scarcity so we can get wealthy because we are poor."

MRS. ISABELLA GREENWAY, representing Arizona in Congress, celebrates her 49th birthday, having as principal guest her only grandchild, a small baby.

Young and good looking as ever, "Congressman" Greenway will not worry, as some women do, about the "approaching fifties." The fiftieth birthday is the beginning of the best period in a woman's life, the period of highest intelligence and charm, lasting from fifty to eighty, and longer.

Wise Providence postpones full development of woman's intellect until after fifty because, until that age, she should not concentrate too seriously on anything except the production of good children.

THE GERMAN Lufthansa Air Company, with perfect Diesel engines for airplanes, has already constructed giant planes that travel 135 miles an hour with oil fuel. This means low cost flying from the Atlantic to the Pacific, $10 a passenger or less, when really big planes are built. It also means more trouble if war comes.

HARBURG - ON - THE - ELBE — Hein Stower, owner of a barber shop, paid heavily for having cut the hair of his fellow citizens too cheaply. He was fined 500 marks, approximately $200 by a Nazi court of honor of his trade for having charged only 35 pfennigs, or about 14 cents for a hair cut. The court ruled that Hein's cheap prices constituted "unfair competition."

Thirteen-Year-Old Girl Is Held By Police At Greensburg, Pa.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Mar. 26.—A 13-year-old girl was held by police here today on a charge of accessory to blackmail after she was alleged to have delivered notes for her brother demanding blackmail.

She is Martha Keffer, sister of John W. Keefer, 20, of Van Meter, who is being held on a charge of blackmail by the state police.

Detectives charged at a hearing before a magistrate Keffer had given his sister the notes to carry to Frank and Herman Springer, farmers and brothers, of Rostraver township. He sought $2,500, police say.

Otis B. Miller, 26, negro, arrested Saturday as a suspect, was formally released. The girl was turned over to custody of juvenile authorities.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26—A vast extension of work for the CCC, although it has sufficient funds to last only this week unless congress finally enacts the $4,880,000,000 works relief before April 1, was provided today through the purchase of 696,000 acres for the national forests by the National Forest Reservation Commission.

Options already have been taken on the lands, which include establishment of a number of new national parks, and additions to others in almost every wooded section of the country. The program calls for expenditure of $2,998,000—approximately $4 an acre for the timberlands.

Among the forest projects approved are:

The purchase in the Appalachian region totaled 210,000 acres.

Chief of the purchases by states, with the forest regions named, were:

Self Defense Is Plea Of Father In Son's Death

Joseph Hornyak, 58, McKeesport, Says He Killed Son In Self Defense

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 26.—Joseph Hornyak, 58, McKeesport, took the stand in his own defense here today and testified the razor-slaying of his 21-year-old son, Steve, was unintentional and in self-defense.

Failing to demand the death penalty, the commonwealth indicated in the presentation of its case it would be satisfied with a voluntary manslaughter verdict.

Hornyak informed the jury an argument of a visit to relatives preceded the fatal quarrel. His son, he said, attacked him, tore his shirt and struck him with a clothes prop.

The defendant denied he had been drinking heavily. He said he held a razor because he was preparing to shave when the dispute arose.

Gertrude Lawrence In Debt, Refuse To Allow Lover To Aid

Refuse Offer By Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., To Aid Distressed Beauty

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 26.—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., would very much like to come to Gertrude Lawrence's rescue with his plump pocketbook and save that lovely lady from the bankruptcy dragon, but the British government, Doug told International News Service today, won't let him.

The famous British actress, often co-starred on the stage as well in matrimonial rumor with the voluntarily exiled young Fairbanks, owed around $125,000, according to her creditors and has assets of only $9,000.

"I have often offered repayment of Gertie's claims" Fairbanks said. "My offers have been refused because of legal reasons. I would gladly help, but the British government says 'no.' "

Frozen Body Of Mine President Found In Quebec

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, March 26—Searchers today found the frozen body of Stanley E. Siscoe, president of the Siscoe Gold mines. A few miles from lake Matchimanitou in the gold mining section of northern Quebec.

Discovery of Siscoe's body followed the finding last night of his companion and pilot, Captain Thomas Wrathall, at a lake near Senneterre, Quebec. Wrathall was alive and safe.

The two men left Montreal by airplane a week ago to inspect some mining property in the Rouyn district of Quebec province. They were seen last flying over the Rouyn district. And then were unreported for days after they had been forced down by unfavorable weather.

According to reports reaching aviation officials here, Siscoe lost his life searching for aid.

Simses And Culbertsons In Bridge Contest

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—You could hardly tell it was a bridge battle between matrimonial mates.

The Simses and the Culbertsons were speaking to each other individually and collectively (at least in public).

Mister and Missus P. Hal Sims were leading today by 2200 points over Mister and Missus Ely Culbertson in the opening shuffle-tussel of their three-week contract bridge go.

But only four rubbers were played and that's not time enough for anybody to gloat or lose their temper

One reason given for the meeting between two of the nation's foremost bridge players in tandem is to settle the question as to whether husbands and wives can play together peaceably. And to determine whether the female of the bridge species plays as noteworthy a game as the male.

The atmosphere at the opening round of the 150-rubber contract bridge match was distinctly social. In the Louis XIV room of the Crockford Club, an arena was set up with silken ropes guarding the tubesteel bridge table and chairs occupied by the contestants.

Invited guests in evening attire were located on platforms outside the ropes. The gallery gently whispered its approval or disapproval of the play except for one instance.

The uprising was suppressed by Culbertson announcing:

Democratic House Ready To Take Final Action On Tax Bills

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—Overriding repeated Republican attacks, the Democratic majority in the house today was set to dispose of virtually all the remaining bills in Gov. George H. Earle's tax program, now in excess of $214,000,000, and send them to the senate.

Eight tax measures designed to raise in excess of $30,000,000 for the coming biennium were on the calendar to be disposed of finally today as special orders of business. Headed by the $20,000,000 six per cent tax on the net income of corporations. The group included bills escheating unclaimed funds in banks, imposing a tax on gross premiums of mutual insurance companies, increasing the tax on bank stocks and taxing electricity a half mill.

Democrats in the house last night passed finally and sent to the senate the Decker bill expected to yield $32,500,000 by taxing the gross receipts of manufacturers and the Achterman bill expected to save $4,300,000 by transferring collection of inheritance and mercantile taxes to the department of revenue.

Two Bills Returned

Two of the administration tax bills were returned to committee to be discarded when it was found at the last minute they overlapped other revenue raisers. These were the Ominsky bill extending the gross receipts tax to domestic manufacturers, covered by the Decker bill, and the Robinson bill, extending the gross receipts tax to gas, water and steam companies, covered in a bill passed by the house last week. The two bills imposing taxes on premiums of mutual insurance companies were postponed until today because of minor amendments necessitated by typographical errors.

Because of confusion attending the Democratic move to send the Ominsky bill back to committee. The Decker bill was passed 116 to 82 without expected debate. It was not until after the vote was announced that Republican leaders became aware the sweeping revenue raiser had passed the lower branch without the customary baptism in minority fire.

To Tranfer Patronage

By a vote of 116 to 81, the house passed the Achterman bill transferring inheritance and mercantile tax collections from the auditor general's department after Rep. Ellwood Turner, Delaware, Republican floor leader, declared its only purpose was to transfer patronage from a Republican department to the Democratic department of revenue.

Rep. Frank W. Ruth, Berks, Democratic floor leader who returned after an absence of three weeks because of illness, urged the legislature to act speedily on the governor's tax proposals, warning the house the state was threatened with a loss of federal relief funds unless it was prepared to contribute its share beginning after April 15. He charged the State Chamber of Commerce, Pennsylvania State Bar Association and "such rackets" were delaying enactment of the administration constitutional revision bill intended to permit borrowing for emergency needs.

Ruth's address brought Turner to his feet with a declaration that constitutional revision would not meet the present emergency. Declaring $40,000,000 was needed at once to meet current needs for hospitals, schools and relief, Turner offered a resolution asking for the appointment of a committee of five members to devise means of meeting the crisis. The resolution was referred to committee.

Says Miners Strike Call Unauthorized

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—The strike called by Martin Ryan in the soft coal fields of Western Pennsylvania for April 1 was unauthorized, Phillip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, said today. William Hynes, president of the district in which Ryan lives, joined Murray in the statement.

"Ryan doesn't represent any one, but defying the laws and policies of the United Mine Workers," Murray added. "He is a self-constituted leader, wholly irresponsible and is obviously attempting to create division within the ranks of the organization which is undoubtedly inspired by people whose interests are inimical to the United Mine Workers."

Appalachian bituminous coal operators and the United Mine Workers today continued negotiations for a new wage contract to supplant the one which expires April 1. These negotiations have been in progress for several weeks but have been without substantial progress toward agreement.

The mine workers want a contract calling for a substantial increase in the wage structure, 30-hour week and better working conditions. The operators want the existing contract retained.

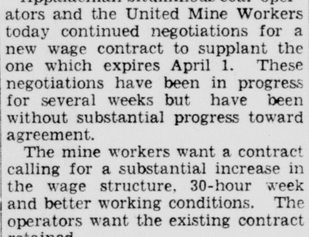

John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, said 300,000 miners would walk out April 1 unless a new contract is signed.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 26—John Paul Chase, sooting pal of the late George "Baby Face" Nelson, today faced a life term behind federal prison bars for the murder of inspector Samuel P. Cowley of the department of justice.

With his usual calm the former California bootlegger heard a jury return a verdict of guilty "without capital punishment," which automatically fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

The jury brought in its verdict after only two ballots, taking three hours to deliberate.

Chase was brought to trial for his part in the Barrington, Ill. gun battle last Nov. 27 in which inspector Cowley, and a federal agent Herman Hollis and "Baby Face" Nelson were slain in an attempt to capture Nelson, then "public enemy No. 1."

Mission Calls Grow, Public's Aid Asked

The public was again appealed to by Superintendent B. J. Watkins to help the City Rescue Mission meet the heavy demands which needy families have placed upon it for household furniture, beds and mattresses.

"The furniture the families want" Mr. Watkins pointed out, is furniture they have a positive need for. And the beds and mattresses are needed by families now lacking them in their homes."

The mission believes many New Castle residents may deside to donate furniture odds-and-ends when they have finished housecleaning this year. If such is the case, the mission truck stands ready to call for donations.

'Why' Gentlemen Prefer Blondes?

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 26—The mystery of why gentlemen prefer blondes has been solved by J. E. Burke, trade commissioner for the Kansas City chamber of commerce and secretary of the Midwest Merchants Retail council. He says.

"It's because blondes are cheaper to dress. The range of colors most becoming to a blonde are decidedly limited in comparison with the great variety that look well on a brunet."

St. Michaels Win Church Floor Championship

St. Michaels Chase Sacred Hearts Jinx In 31 To 27 Victory

St. Michaels Victorious In Three Extra-Periods Over Hearts At "Y" Floor

Finest Game Of Year, Carik, Motsko, Chernyavsky Stars Of Battle

St. Michaels church basketball team ascended to the heights last night of championship fame by "out-jinxing a jinx' and taking a 31 to 27 victory over the Sacred Hearts in a game that carried the New Castle Church league title with it. Never has a better basketball game been played at the "Y". It required three extra-three minute periods to decide the titanic struggle, and the St. Michaels came through.

St. Michaels Great

A crowd that packed the "Y" floor's every available inch of space sat spellbound as the St. Michaels coached by Michael "Jake" Babovsky battered the Sacred Hearts into submission after almost an hour of terrific floor play. At the end of the first half the score was 11-11, it was that kind of a game. The Sacred Hearts had defeated the St. Mikes three times previously this year, it was almost a forgone conclusion that it would happen again, bpt Balla, Motsko, Chernyavsky, Carik, J. Slosernick, Hnat and Mackiewicz thought different. Every road must have an ending, and the Sacred Hearts "jinx' came to the blind-alley last night. Not that the Hearts under Rocco P. Viggiano did not try, they did, but the St. Michaels was an inspired quintet, and that just about tells the story.

Play Is Fast

Motsko, J. Slosernick and Balla supplied the St. Mikes points in the first half, with Viggiano, Gallagher and Cooper doing the scoring for the Sacred Hearts. The play was fast and furious in the first two periods. The St. Michaels were dogged determined that the Hearts would not take the coveted victory.

The St. Michaels led 24 to 23 with a half minute to play and one of the St. Mikes players left the court, the referee "Bub" Jones calles a foul and the Hearts made it good. The regulation game ended 24-24. The St. Michaels had the game all sewed up in the bag ready to take it home and then zowie the Hearts tied it up on a technicality.

Three Extra Periods

The first extra-period produced some fast playing with Viggiano making a field goal that just about put the Hearts over the fence, but with about seven seconds left Johnny Carik came through with a field goal that kept the score tied at 26-26 as the first extra-period drew to a close. In the second extra-period the Hearts got a foul and the St. Michaels got a foul to make it 27-27. The third extra-period found the St. Michaels "setting sail" for the championship with Andy Motsko and 'Shimmy" Balla caging fouls and Johnny Slosernick making a field goal, while the Hearts could not score.

No Individual Stars

It would be hard to pick out any individual stars from the great game, but one must throw a few orchids at Walter Chernyavsky the St. Michaels center, who played the best game of his career and while he didn't score from the field, was a tower of strength at passing and helping his mates. Andy Motsko and Johnny Carik divided scoring honors for the St. Michaels with eight points apiece. "Peanuts" Hnat had five points and "Shimmy" Balla who was a marked man in the game, had three points. J. Slosernick had six points and was one of the heroes of the game. It was cooperation that carried the Babovskymen through.

For the Sacred Hearts the playing of Gallagher and Cooper was the best with nine points apiece. Viggiani and Merando also played fine basketball.

St. Michaels Happy

The St. Michaels are celebrating their victory, the first time that they have ever won the championship, it is a comparatively new team to basketball in New Castle compared to the other teams in the church league, but with a fighting determination to win, the St. Mikes occupy the highest place in the church league as champions, and there is no more deserving team anywhere.

The summary—

Muny Course Is Being Placed In Shape For Play

Greenskeeper Reed And Force Of Men Are Working On Greens And Fairways

With the advent of favorable weather, Greenskeeper Johnny Reed and his force of men have started work on getting the Municipal Golf Course in shape for play.

The fairways ar being rolled to smooth them down and work has been started on top-dressing the greens. It is expected to take about two weeks to get the course in shape for regular play, and this work will be expedited if the present kind of weather continues.

A meeting of the golf committee was held last evening at the City Building, when matters pertaining to the course were discussed. The same rates as prevailed last year, will again be in force, ie: $10 for an adult season membership, $15 for a man and wife or man and minor child: $5 for juveniles under 21, and twenty-five cents per nine holes. The special Monday rate of twenty-five cents for 18 holes will prevail up to 3 o'clock on Mondays.

The course was seeded down last spring and the results of this are expected to be manifested this year, when a thicker turf should be noted on the fairways.

Unions To Meet Wednesday Night

Union soft ball team will hold an important meeting Wednesday night at the home of Joseph Cambro, of 511 East Lutton street. The purpose of the meeting will be to elect a captain and also to be measured for uniforms.

Manager Joseph Diana has requested the following to be present at the meeting: Frank Babs, Harold Dickson, Rodger Pezzone, Albert Ritchie, Tex Richards, Frank Picarri, Joe Merando, Frank Vigali, Jos. Fair, Albert Pezzone, Sam Copple, Joe Nigro, Joe Fortune, Peachy Fornataro, Joe Bosco, Tom Fair, Chuck Summers, Ted Turco, Dom Scarnati, Nickie Ross, Francis Clause, Frank Merando and John Teplica.

Here And There In Sports' Land

Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, who was in his heyday several years ago, upset the dope when he carved a surprise win over Babe Risko in eight rounds at Cleveland last night. Fans figured Belmont as easy "pickins" for Risko. Jimmy came through in the last several rounds to win the award. Light Heavyweight Champion Bob Olin earned a slender victory over Mickey Dugan, a Cleveland slugger, and Tommy Romano of Albany won from Joe Bazzone of Pittsburgh. The latter two bouts were eight round affairs in the Carl Tremaine benefit attended by more than 3,000 fans.

Denny Shute, 1933 British open golf champion, has resigned as professional at the Llanerch club, Philadelphia.

Cy Young, 68, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, will leave in late April to go into training for the baseball season. He will be one of the regulars on a team of old timers who will tour the country giving exhibitions. Young has been guaranteed $250 a month and expenses, according to a report from New Philadelphia, O.

Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, shot an 80, one under women's par, to win medalist honors at Augusta Monday in the qualifying round of the fifth annual Augusta women's invitational golf tournament.

Alex Kowalski of Chicago, vaulted into first place in the singles in the American Bowling Congress at Syracuse yesterday. He hit 225, 226 and 246 to produce a 697 and pass Earl Springer of Cleveland, who has been high since Saturday with 690.

Elmer Carroll, Wilkinsburg high coach since 1927 and chairman of the W. P. I. A. L. football committee, has tendered his resignation to school authorities effective at the end of the school year. It is reported he will accept a job with an eastern school.

Start Drawing For Sweepstakes

Americans Draw Thomond The Second One Of Favorites Of Aintree Race

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN, Mar. 26—Fortune's drum began to turn on the stage of the Plaza ballroom here today as the draw began for $8,404,895 in the Irish hospitals' sweepstake on the grand national steeplechase.

Sixteen persons will be richer by $150,000 each when the race is run at Aintree, England, Friday. They are the ones who draw tickets on the horse that places first. Second horse will win $75,000 for 16 others, and third will get $50,000 each.

Anybody who draws a horse, whether the entry runs or not, will receive a prize of $3,975, it was announced.

Five horses topped the betting on the grand national, one of Britain's greatest classics, the wagers bringing far up into the millions the sums involved in the face.

Latest odds on the favorites, as quoted in the last "Call Over" in London, were:

Miss Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller, winner of the grand national last year, 7 to 2; Jock Whitney's Thomond the Second, 13 to 2; F. E. Peek's Tapinois, 9 to 1; Major Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown, 20 to 1, and George H. Bosticks Castle Irwell, 20 to 1.

Prize Funds Drop

Britain's new lottery laws, banning participation in foreign lotteries or publication of their results in Great Britain were blamed by Lord Powerscourt, chairman of the Irish hospitals' trust, in announcing that the prize fund had dropped from $10,430,175 in the last sweepstake to $8,404,895 in the present one.

American luck began to emerge from the huge drum almost after the first roll of the millions of counterfoils.

Thomas J. Roszki, New York; "Clear Sailing," New York; "Erin Go Bragh," Buffalo, N. Y.

Reynoldstown, 20-to-1 shot that ranks as fourth favorite, was drawn by the following Americans:

Ray Gold, Bronx, N. Y.; Ann Goldberg, Philadelphia; "Five Glasses," Philadelphia.

Baer-Schmeling Bout Is Planned

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 26—Unless boisterous Bill Brown, the only audible member of the boxing commission, is out-voted at today's meeting, the heavyweight championship fight between Max Baer and Max Schmeling is liable to wind up out of town, either in Philadelphia or Chicago.

This was clearly indicated this morning when one member of the under-the-table entente, James J. Johnston, of Madison Square Garden, was most evasive if not incoherent on the subject of a Schmeling-Braddock semi final fight, and the other, Joe (Heil, Hitler) Jacobs, Manager of Schmeling, was distinctly explicit. He said Schmeling would come to America only to fight Baer for the title.

Order Laid Down

To complete the record, it may be added that boisterous Bill has declared that Schmeling must first meet Braddock or there will be no Schmeling-Baer fight in New York. Of course, Bill represents only one vote against two, the latter being represented by General John J. Phelan and Col. D. Walker Wear.

The general is testy—and futile. The colonel stays in his upstate home and is called in mostly on consultation. In a word, he runs this job largely by ear.

White Sox Will Bank On Rookies

By WALLACE X. RAWLES
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 26.—Manager Jimmie Dykes has been slow to release his rookies.

Indicating he hoped to strengthen the Chicago White Sox starting lineup, Jimmie was particularly patient in training camp at Pasadena with the newcomers.

Patient, that is, until the regular hurlers started to "bear down" after freeing themselves of creaks and groans that gather in pitching bones during the winter.

White Sox Confident

Although lacking a "Babe" Ruth or a "Dizzy Dean" for color, and not regarded as likely to win the American League title unless southern typhoons create gasping fatalities in the ranks of the New York Yankees, the Boston Red Sox, the Athletics, the Tigers, the Senators, the Browns and the Cleveland Indians, the White Sox at least had the early satisfaction of taking a wide edge in their first games with the Chicago Cubs.

The Sox incidentally have been more than a little successful in their other exhibition game. Yesterday, for example, they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10 to 7, thus snapping a 7-game winning streak by the Buccaneers.

Lineup Is Set

Dykes tipped his hand on his possible starting line-up when the following employes of the White Sox payroll were allowed to remain throughout most of the exhibition games, in the following order:

Hayes, 2B; Haas, RF; Simmons, cf; Bonura, 1b; Hafey, lf; Appling, ss; Dykes, 3B; Sewell, c., and a miscellaneous assortment of mound laborers including George Earnshaw, Johnny Whitehead, Vernon Kennedy, Babe Phelps, Whitelow Wyatt, and Joe Vance.

John Michaels has recovered with reasonable early season speed from "the misery" and Michaels reported improvement from a sore arm "Zeke" Bonura has enjoyed a bananza of exhibition hits. In one game he made a double and three singles. He was pleased. So was Dykes. Ray Radcliff made a spirited bid for a regular position in the White Sox outfield.

Dykes Works Hard

Dykes has worked hard with his players and those to aspire to such classification. The only time he seemed a bit upset was not, curiously, when he lost an exhibition game, but when the New York Yankees released "Babe" Ruth to the Boston Braves, a team in the National League.

"It's a shame," said Dykes. "After all Babe has done for the American League in general and the Yankees in particular they turn him out to pasture in Boston, of all places. It wasn't right. Babe'll show 'em".

Strive To Solve Brutal Slaying

(International News Service)

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 26—The "most cruel and brutal murder in the history of Mercer county," was somewhat nearer a solution today but District Attorney J. W. Nelson officially announced he would give out no information at present.

The slaying was that of Howard Sidley, 30, gasoline filling station operator, brutally hacked to death by a person or persons who invaded his establishment between Grove City and Mercer March 16.

Number of Clues

Nelson said police have questioned more than 100 persons and have ridden 1,000 miles in their investigation. He declared:

"We have picked up a number of clues. We are holding a shirt with blood spots on it and shoes of a man I will not name. We are also holding a suspect who will remain incognito until he is discharged or charges are preferred.

"The shirt has been sent to a chemist for analysis. Everything that has been possible has been done to solve the murder. We hope to have something official very soon."

It isn't all in getting rich, it isn't all in winning fame,
A bigger thing than victory is how you've tried to play the game;
Success is keeping faith with men and standing true to what is best,
And finding joy in humble things and being fit for every test.

The good man need not come to wealth nor need he rise to world renown,
Not often is the richest man the best-loved citizen in town;
You'll find he walks in humble ways and modest is the garb he wears,
And on his back from day to day life piles a multitude of cares.

His glory is a generous heart, a voice that carries hope and cheer,
A willingness to do his work, a wish to be of service here;
He asks no favored place from life, nor shirks the hardships in his way,
But meets all men with head erect and plays the friend from day to day.

The best loved man in any town is honest, manly, brave and true,
Sharing his life with all who live, doing what work he finds to do;
He may not climb the heights of fame nor come to treasure's golden fee,
But he is still accounted great in all God asks a man to be.
